No Trace Found of Plane With 16; Reds Say Chiang Craft Is Damaged

Search Pressed For Naval Crew; News Blacked Out

Tokyo, Aug. 23 (P)—Red China said one of its planes damaged a "Chiang Kai-shek" aircraft early today over islands southeast of Shanghai—the area where a U. S. Navy patrol plane and its 16 crewmen were believed shot down.

A Peiping broadcast, without identifying the plane beyond the reference to the American-supported Chinese Nationalist leader, said it had intruded over Chinese islands and made off after the encounter toward the southeast—the direction of Formosa.

U. S. SHIPS and planes were searching for the naval patrol plane, believed down by Communist Chinese aircraft 32 miles off Wenchow, China, at 1:25 a. m. local time. Nightfall came without any announced word of the results.

The missing plane, a four-engine P4M Mercator, in its last brief radio message reported it was "under attack by aircraft."

The Navy said it then was 32 miles off Red China's shore and 160 miles north of Formosa.

The place where the Peiping broadcast reported the encounter with a "Chiang Kai-shek plane" is about 350 miles north of Formosa.

In a time belt an hour behind that of Japan and the U. S. bases here, the Red Chinese station said the encounter came "before 1 a. m. this morning."

THE COMMUNIST broadcast said:

"A Chiang Kai-shek plane was damaged by the air force of the Chinese People's Liberation Army before 1 a. m. this morning. It flew off in the southeast direction after being hit. The Chiang Kai-shek plane was spotted over the southeast of Shanghai. It intruded over the Maan Islands, Chongss Islands and Hwangtehshan Island."

The U. S. hunt for the missing patrol plane went on all day without success and tonight all announcements, even of a negative nature, ceased.

Far East naval headquarters at Yokosuka, Japan, clamped a news blackout on any developments in the round-the-clock hunt. A spokesman said any new information must come from Washington in coordination with the Defense and State Departments.

NEWSMEN PROTESTED that this might mean that families of the crew in Japan would have to wait longer for word of the men's fate.

A navy announcement more than 10 hours after the plane sent its last message said search crews up to that time had found nothing, though they had combed the east China Sea since dawn. The pilot of the missing craft was Lt. Cmdr. Milton Hutchinson of (62 John street) Cumberland, R. I.

Vice Adm. Stuart Ingersoll, chief of the U. S. Formosa Defense Command, announced the Mercator "is assumed to have been shot down by the attacking aircraft."

A SPOKESMAN for the Far East naval forces said he could give no information on the nationality, type or number of the attacking aircraft. The Nationalist Chinese air force said none of its planes were in the area at the time.

It was the first attack on an American plane in the Formosa area since Jan. 18, 1953. On that date a Navy Neptune was downed by Red gunfire off Swatow and 11 men were lost. Another navy plane was shot at while searching for survivors but was not hit.

THE U. S. NAVY spokesman insisted the Mercator was over neutral waters of the East China Sea at the time the attack was reported.

"It was then operating 32 miles off Chinese Communist territory," he said, "160 miles north of Formosa."

That would have put the plane about opposite Juian and Wenchow, on the Red China coast. The plane, a four-engine P4M Mercator carrying four officers and 12 enlisted men, was on a "routine training and patrol mission" from Japan south toward

Third Ward Asking Tax Consideration

160 Residents Request Reassessment
Be Checked Concerning Home Values

A six-point petition, similar to that filed by second ward taxpayers Aug. 14 to ask reconsideration of reassessment figures was filed at the office of Mayor Frederick H. Stang in behalf of third ward residents yesterday.

It asked that the mayor and Third Ward Alderman Edwin Radel "reconsider the new assessments of the third ward as they are now prepared."

Among the points made were the feeling among the taxpayers that assessments in many instances were considered unequal, that lack of sidewalks, sewers, curbing and properly paved roads were not considered, that the appraising company had not become acquainted with local conditions, that the age of some properties was not considered, and that assessments in many instances were too heavily increased.

Mayor Stang today said that his answer to the petition which contained the names of more than 150 property holders, was the same as that which he had given in answer to the second ward protest Aug. 17.

The mayor then said that the second ward was treated like all other wards in the city, and that the same method and formula were used in arriving at assessed valuations.

The reassessment program was undertaken, he said, so that the city could arrive at a more equitable distribution of the local tax burden in all wards.

In many instances, the mayor said, the assessments were too heavily increased.

Roosevelt Will Speak at GOP Picnic Sept. 16

John Roosevelt of Hyde Park, youngest son of the late Franklin Delano Roosevelt, will be the principal speaker at the annual picnic at Sportsmen's Park, Rosendale, sponsored by the New Paltz Republican Club, it was announced today by Larry Argiro, president.

No details were immediately available except that Mr. Roosevelt, a prominent member of the Republican party, had accepted an invitation to speak at the rally.

Mr. Roosevelt is now attending the Republican National Convention in San Francisco.

Wagner Being Pressed CIO, Harriman Desire Him as Senator

New York, Aug. 23 (P)—Pressure increased today for Mayor Robert F. Wagner to be the Democratic candidate for the U. S. Senate seat which Sen. Herbert H. Lehman (D-N. Y.) is not seeking again.

It came from the New York State CIO Council now holding its annual convention in Albany and from Gov. Averell Harriman.

Lehman already has spoken for Wagner. The veteran Democratic office holder said Tuesday he favored Wagner. The 78-year-old Lehman said he would not seek a second full term in the Senate because of the strain of campaigning.

Although Wagner has said he is not a candidate, Louis Hollander, CIO Council president, said in Albany the 45-member executive committee had expressed a "unanimous" feeling Wagner should be drafted.

Hollander said, too, there was "very great sentiment" for the mayor among the delegates.

The New York Herald Tribune said Harriman telephoned Wagner from the governor's Sands Point, Long Island, home and urged the mayor to be a candidate.

Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt and Julius Helfand, chairman of the State Athletic Commission, were suggested as possibilities, the New York Times reported.

In Denmark, where she is visiting, Mrs. Roosevelt told a reporter: "Nothing could induce me to run."

Mrs. Roosevelt's name reportedly was put forward by Bernard M. Baruch, financier and adviser to Presidents, and Herbert Bayard Swope, former chairman of the State Racing Commission.

Helfand said he was not a candidate for the nomination. He said the mention of his name apparently by upstate party (Continued on Page 26, Col. 3)

Stassen's Opposition Is Quashed

Realizes 'Veep' Is Clear Choice

San Francisco, Aug. 23 (P)—Republicans looked forward in confidence today to President Eisenhower's rematch with Democrat Adlai E. Stevenson in the November presidential elections.

The 1,323 GOP convention delegates last night unanimously roared their approval of an Eisenhower-Nixon team they predict will repeat its 1952 defeat of a Democratic ticket headed by Stevenson.

FAR AWAY IN Libertyville, Ill., Stevenson, renominated in Chicago last week, voiced congratulations to Eisenhower and said, "I am pleased to be matched against him again."

In obvious reference to the renomination of Vice President Nixon, often accused by the Democrats of dirty campaign tactics, Stevenson said:

"I suppose we will now witness the greatest dry cleaning job in our political history."

NIXON WON HIS place after Harold E. Stassen stood up before the 1,323 delegates and urged them to vote for the man he had said previously would cost the GOP ticket "millions of votes" in the November election.

Swallowing probably the bitterest pill of his political career, the one-time "boy-wonder" Governor of Minnesota acknowledged that Nixon was the "clear choice" of the mass of the delegates.

Earlier at a news conference Eisenhower quashed Stassen's weeks-old drive to drop Nixon and replace him with Gov. Christian Herter of Massachusetts or almost any other Republican of stature.

STASSEN CONTENTED Nixon would reduce the political appeal of the Republican ticket and might cost the Republicans their bid to recapture Congress.

Eisenhower announced Stassen had told him he was dropping his drive to ditch Nixon because it was evident the delegates wanted the vice president on the ticket again.

Although he held out to the last against any flat endorsement, Eisenhower declared of Nixon:

"I THINK HE is as good a man as you can get."

Nixon flew to Whittier, Calif., early yesterday to be at the bedside of his critically ill father. He said he was "very gratified by the results of the nomination of President Eisenhower and appreciative, too, for the support of the delegates for the nomination for vice president."

"I'll work harder than in previous campaigns to see that leadership is available to the United States and to the world for four more years," he declared.

EISENHOWER WILL make his first appearance before the convention late today to accept his nomination. He is expected to outline a program geared to the "dynamic conservatism" he has talked about in the past. Nixon will also address the convention if his father's condition permits him to return.

Despite all the talk about having an "open" convention, delegates were determined to follow Eisenhower's unanimous renomination with a no-dissents choice of Nixon.

Stassen, after watching a howling, shrieking demonstration for Nixon, marched solemnly to the convention podium, laid down a sheaf of handwritten notes and sought to make his peace.

SPEAKING BEFORE an audience which had been cautioned against booing him, Stassen said Nixon was an "able and experienced, effective and earnest incumbent."

Stassen said he thought the "most constructive and helpful step I can now take toward the re-election of Dwight D. Eisenhower" was to second Nixon's nomination. And he did it, No. 5 among the six seconding speakers.

Stassen's chosen candidate to replace Nixon, Gov. Christian Herter of Massachusetts, previously had placed Nixon's name formally before the convention. Herter had disavowed Stassen's choice of him, but had said no man could turn down the nomination if it came his way.

AS AN ECHO of his lonely campaign against Nixon, Stassen said he wanted to ask that in the future "it be made easy

Eisenhower Rally Slated Saturday

A Youth for Eisenhower rally and dance will be held at the municipal auditorium Saturday night, it was announced today by S. James Matthews, prominent young Kingston attorney and civic leader.

Purpose of the rally will be celebration of the renomination of Dwight David Eisenhower for president of the United States, Mr. Matthews told The Freeman.

He said he hoped such a rally could capture the spirit and spontaneity of the national convention now in session in San Francisco.

Admission will be free. Doors will be open to the public at 8:30 p. m. Dancing will continue from 9 to 12 midnight with Harry Maisenholder and a 10-piece orchestra providing the music.

Local candidates will be introduced and a short film on Eisenhower will be shown.

Mr. Matthews issued a special plea for young people interested in participating in the rally. He asked that volunteers contact the Youth for Eisenhower headquarters at 41 Pearl street, telephone 650.

Mr. Matthews also directed a special invitation to "first voters"—those who will cast their first ballots this November—to join the Youth for Eisenhower rally.

All young people, regardless of party affiliation, are invited and urged to attend, he said.

PLAN YOUTH FOR EISENHOWER DANCE—Members of the Ulster county Youth for Eisenhower organization complete plans for a dance which will be held at the municipal auditorium Saturday from 9 p. m. to 12 midnight. Seated (l-r) Miss Marion Raskoskie, Miss Barbara Maines and Miss Doris Mazerolas. Standing, Frank Perry, dance chairman, Robert Murray, treasurer, and Attorney S. James Matthews, chairman of the county organization. Harry Maisenholder's orchestra will play for dancing. Youth for Eisenhower is a national organization to promote the reelection of the President who was unanimously nominated at the Republican National Convention in San Francisco last night. Six Are Injured In Chicago Blaze

Chicago, Aug. 23 (AP)—Six persons were injured in a massive fire which destroyed an eight-story abandoned warehouse in the huge Chicago union stockyards last night.

NEARLY HALF of the city's fire fighting equipment brought the blaze under control after a five hour battle. More than 75 pieces of fire equipment were sent to the scene in response to five alarms and six special alarms. Firemen maintained a watch over the smoldering ruins today.

Chief Fire Marshal Albert Petersen said the fire might not be fully extinguished for another two days.

Fire Commissioner Albert Mullany, who estimated damage at $150,000 said the empty warehouse was owned by the Armour & Co. meat packing firm, and was in the process of being razed.

Mullany said most of the damage was done by small fires in building adjoining the warehouse. The scene of the fire, at 43rd and Packers Ave., is about a half mile from the International Amphitheatre, where the Democratic National Convention was held last week.

ONE FIREMAN suffered a fractured shoulder. Another fireman, three policemen and a watchman suffered burns or other injuries.

Armour & Co. officials said the company does not expect the fire to interfere with operations at the stockyards.

It was the worst fire at the sprawling stockyards since the big fire of 1934, which caused eight million dollars damage.

East Cool Spell Appears at End

(By The Associated Press)

A brief cool spell in most of the eastern half of the nation appeared ended today. Fairly warm and dry weather was indicated for most of the country.

Widespread warming was reported by the weather bureau from Texas northward through South Dakota and northeastward through the middle Mississippi valley, the southern Great Lakes region and into the north Atlantic coast states.

Temperatures were about 10 degrees higher than 24 hours earlier, ranging from the 50s in the north Atlantic coast states to the 60s in western areas and the 70s in the south section of the warmer belt. A warming trend was indicated from the mid Mississippi valley and Arkansas eastward to Georgia and Virginia.

The only cool spot was from the northern Great Lakes region westward through northern Wisconsin and Minnesota and into North Dakota. Readings ranged from near 50 in the Great Lakes to the 60s in North Dakota.

Canada Rejects Plan On Seaway Damages

Washington, Aug. 23 (AP)—The Canadian government says existing legal remedies are adequate for Lake Ontario property owners who claim St. Lawrence Seaway operations have damaged their property.

The State Department yesterday made public Canada's rejection of a U. S. plan which would have given the international joint commission greater authority in settling complaints.

Canada said the U. S. plan would have given the commission unwarranted judicial functions and the power to amend Canadian laws.

The commission in 1952 set up procedures for court consideration of Lake Ontario claims.

Canada indicated, however, that it would be willing to reconsider the matter in the light of any new developments.

The State Department revealed the Canadian position in a letter to Rep. Keating (R-N. Y.).

Sullivan to Resume TV Show Sept. 16

New York, Aug. 23 (AP)—CBS said yesterday that Ed Sullivan expects to be back on his television show Sunday, Sept. 16.

Sullivan is in Grace-New Haven Community Hospital, New Haven, Conn. He was admitted Monday night after a physician noted a slight rise in his temperature. His temperature was reported down to normal yesterday.

The temperature rise had been noted by a physician treating the 53-year-old Sullivan at his Southbury, Conn., home for a fractured rib and a lung bruise suffered in an auto collision in Connecticut Aug. 6.

Sullivan's son-in-law, Robert Precht Jr., 26, of Scarsdale, N. Y., also injured in the collision, was admitted to the hospital in New Haven last night for further treatment of an ankle fracture.

No Casualties In New Mine Fire

Marcinelle, Belgium, Aug. 23 (AP)—Belgium had her second coal mine fire in 15 days today. Unlike the first which claimed 263 lives, the brief blaze caused no casualties.

Today's fire broke out in a pumping station 2,925 feet below the surface at the St. Charles Mine south of Charleroi. A short time later a mine official said the blaze was under control and all 48 men had been brought safely to the surface.

The mine lies only a few miles from the Bois du Cazier site, where 263 miners perished after being trapped in the Aug. 8 blaze. Earlier estimates had put the dead at 270, but an announcement today that all hope of further survivors had been abandoned reduced the total.

Taxi Age Limit

Mexico City (AP)—Taxis over 14 years old must be retired from public service here. The city traffic department says such cars are no longer considered safe or fit for the public and it will not renew licenses for them.

U. S. Halts Flow Of Technicians, Items to Egypt

Washington, Aug. 23 (AP)—The United States has halted the normal flow of foreign aid technicians to Egypt and has taken steps to hold up delivery of some 20 million dollars worth of heavy transportation equipment.

THESE TWIN moves have been ordered by the International Cooperation Administration (ICA) as a precaution, pending settlement of the bitter Suez Canal dispute.

Responsible officials who reported this emphasized that some "minor" foreign aid shipments are continuing to go forward to Egypt.

Further, they said, the United States has no intention at present of closing down its 102-man Foreign Aid Mission in Cairo, even though new personnel, mostly replacements, are not being sent.

ABOUT FIVE technicians a month move to Cairo under normal conditions. Those who have been ready to go there have been given extended home leaves.

The major undelivered foreign aid items involved in the watch-and-wait order are railroad engines, freight cars, tugboats, barges, a dredge, railroad machine shop, railway ties and some waterway equipment.

NEWS ABOUT NOISE

Many a man chatting with someone has said the equivalent of "Go right on talking; I can understand you" when the telephone rang. It is commonly thought that understanding a voice on the telephone and another voice in the room at the same time is, while tricky, not really difficult.

Actually, says Prof. James P. Egan of the psychology department at Indiana university, it is impossible. What really happens, he says, is a rapid shifting of attention between the telephone voice and the voice in the room.

Egan has been making tests in two special rooms, one full of echoes and reverberations, the other virtually echoless because of its two-foot-deep layer of soundproofing. Here he and his associates have learned that if a voice is made to sound "tinny" it can be heard better among other voices; also that two separate voices are heard in the two receivers of a headset, and only one can be understood at a time.

These may seem like useless bits of information. Not so. Such data will lead to greater accuracy in the transmission of messages, especially in such noisy places as airfields and airport control towers, roaring factories, and aircraft carrier flight decks. Under some circumstances, increased accuracy may save lives. The professors listening in the loud and noisy rooms provide one more example of how research improves and enriches our lives.

MULTIPLYING THE SCIENTISTS

Everybody has been worried about the drastic shortage of scientists and engineers throughout the country. But it doesn't seem that there has been a great deal done about it.

That's why it's a nice change of pace to hear that a man in East Palestine, O., has taken the matter into his own hands.

No, he isn't trying to start a nationwide crusade. He just introduced a mathematics contest at the local high school.

For Leonard Yoder, executive secretary of the East Palestine Chamber of Commerce, was worried about the decline of student interest in that subject. He realized that training in mathematics is an important factor in the technical manpower shortage.

So Yoder arranged for $230 in awards from community business and manufacturing concerns to be presented to students who prepared the best exhibits of mathematics in our economy. Now the contest has become an annual affair.

Recently Sen. Richard Russell (D-Ga.), chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, praised the competition as a "good example" of what communities all over the country could do to build up scientific manpower.

We'll go along with that 100 per cent. And we hope numerous others pick up the idea.

LOCKS ON TEMPTATION

It takes only seven seconds to lock your car, says the secretary of an automobile club. Another estimate makes it 30, but the car owner who needs that much time may have unusually slow reflexes.

Whether seven or 30 is unimportant. What matters is that an unlocked car is a temptation to thieves and teen-age joyriders. Boys often go down the line of parked cars, looking for one that is unlocked. It is more convenient if the keys have been left in it, but not essential. Many a boy has wound up in reform school or worse because of the easy temptations put in his way by lazy drivers.

These arguments are emphasized in a midwestern city that is featuring "Lock Your Car Week." It is a more vital subject than many others honored by special weeks.

"Ivy League" suits are the latest style for men. They feature jackets without padding in the shoulders. Padding in the waist, however, is still correct dress for any man.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY
THE MACHIAVELLIANS

Every quadrennial political convention produces its share of Machiavellians, master-minds who manipulate delegations and leaders and the chemistry of democracy that is euphemistically called public opinion. Often the Machiavellians live only during one convention and are never heard of again. Sometimes, they are of sterner quality and longer life.

For instance, Colonel George Harvey, who managed the smoke-filled room that made Warren Harding the Republican candidate for President, was a distinguished editor and publisher; Colonel Edward House, who devoted himself to the career of Woodrow Wilson, was an obscure Texan until the world went to war, whereupon House became an international celebrity and a master-mind of American policy.

In the recent Democratic Convention, Senator Lyndon Johnson, it was expected, would produce a marvelous compromise between Stevenson and Harriman, but Lyndon Johnson did not produce anything, not even a successful candidate for the Vice Presidency. George Backer and Judge Sam Rosenman were the manipulators of the Harriman effort and it is astonishing that Judge Rosenman did not succeed, what with his wealth of White House experience, but the fact is that he did not.

In the Republican Convention, the Machiavellians' real effort will be to dump Vice President Nixon. In this, the Machiavellian is not Harold Stassen who does not possess that type of mind, being somewhat more simple. Originally the design for dumping Nixon came from outside the Republican Party and the White House; it came from the A.D.A., the Americans for Democratic Action, which is managed by Joseph Rauh of Cincinnati and Professor Arthur Schlesinger, Jr., of Harvard. Joining them in the original thinking was the Committee for an Effective Congress, which is not part of the Republican apparatus although it was employed by some Republicans to destroy the effectiveness of Senator Joe McCarthy. They did not succeed but claim success; it was the voters who in 1954 elected a Democratic Senate and left Joe without a committee chairmanship which made him less effective.

Some folks in the White House, when they recognized the character of the dump Nixon campaign, thought that it was good because it might have produced Sherman Adams as Vice President. The Governor of California, Goodwin Knight, thought the campaign not bad at all because he is possessed of a public ambition to be Vice President. Harold Stassen grabbed the ball and tried to run with it, avoiding to tell the public that he wanted the Vice Presidency for himself but claiming it for Christian Herter who promptly removed himself from the picture. Governor Theodore McKelvin of Maryland is willing.

This is not a movement against Nixon at all. The Machiavellians believe that they can utilize certain dissenting factors in the Republican Party to split the party and thus defeat it. No one can object to the Democrats, the A.D.A. or the Committee for an Effective Congress employing such tactics; it is part of the game of politics, war and love. They might be called diversionary tactics. One is astonished that any Republicans fall for them, particularly as these are the tactics that resulted in Republican defeats again and again.

Ergo, the practical politicians came to Nixon's support not because they love Nixon—politicians never love anyone but the voters—but because they recognize the devastating possibilities of a split in the party in this election which, no matter what is said for publication, the men who ring doorbells know will be close. And even if Adlai Stevenson never refers to Ike's health, the debate between the Republican and Democratic doctors on the ileum has done its work in developing a doubt as to whether Ike can carry the load.

So the object of the dump Nixon effort is not so much to get rid of Nixon as to get rid of Eisenhower. It is a diversionary movement designed to hit the jugular of the Republicans. This is recognized by the professionals of both parties. If the Republican Convention should, despite the assurance of about 900 votes for Nixon, decide to dump him, the candidate will not be Christian Herter, or Harold Stassen or Sherman Adams. It could be Tom Dewey.

Albert Einstein, not much of a politician to be sure, once wrote:

"... Who can doubt that Moses was a better leader of humanity than Machiavelli?"

Of course, to so-called practical politicians, this is heresy, besides Einstein never was qualified to ring doorbells.

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

MORE ABOUT CATARACT

A common symptom of early cataract is a change in the refraction of the eye in that the patient commonly has what is called "second sight" because he may for a time, be able to read again without glasses. Usually overlooked is the fact that distance vision has become more blurred at the same time. Other common symptoms are the seeing of many lights from a single source and the appearance of tails or streamers from one source of light.

We are advised that consultation with the general practitioner is nearly always essential before cataract surgery. Since most cataract operations are performed under local anesthetic with little risk to life, there are few conditions that forbid operation. Thus the chief purpose of the examination is to eliminate as much as possible any risk to the success of the operation.

Conditions carrying such risk include sensitivities to various drugs, severe heart and blood vessel disease, bleeding tendency, cough, common cold, acute or subacute stomach and bowel disturbances, and mental disorders. Other conditions that may complicate or disturb convalescence include stomach, bowel and rectum difficulties, arthritic and muscular rheumatic conditions and heart conditions. Conditions that might interfere with proper rest and care in bed include deformities, overweight (if excessive) and general debility (being run-down).

Many such convalescence is one in which the patient is free of pain and physical disturbances and is relaxed physically and mentally. The total time of hospitalization is generally ten to 12 days. Undoubtedly, many patients would do as well if allowed out earlier than this but it is usually impossible to control their activities outside the hospital and difficult to treat the variety of aches and pains they so often suffer during early convalescence. The risk to the eye is greatest during this period so that hospitalization and supervision for about ten days after operation are safest for the majority of patients.

In the case of the ordinary cataract appearing in the older person, the removal of the cataract and correction with glasses should provide normal or nearly normal vision which will generally last the rest of the patient's life. Such a result will enable the patient to perform most visual tasks. There is no limitation to the amount or type of visual work which can be done and no need to use the operated eye sparingly for fear of injuring it. Among a large group of cases taken at random, the end result is at least fairly good in more than 9 per cent of cases, and, as we mentioned yesterday, chance of failure to have some useful vision is 1 per cent or less.

So do not let the word "cataract" upset you if you should ever develop one. Remember, the results from surgery are excellent, and also remember that surgery is the only known method of restoring vision in this condition.

Who Else?

Edson's Washington News Notebook

By PETER EDSON

NEA Washington Correspondent
San Francisco—(NEA)—This is probably the politest and most respectable political convention ever held. It is all cut, dried—and a bit dull.

Gov. Arthur Langlie of Washington really struck the C natural pitch in his keynoter when he declared: "Our purpose is not to 'give 'em hell' but to give them leadership." He meant Eisenhower.

Gov. Goodwin J. Knight of California explained it was all due to his state's highly pressurized weather. "In this temperate climate," he said, "even the most contentious issues yield to temperate decisions."

SEN. WILLIAM F. KNOWLAND of California even had kind words for the Democrats. "I make no claim that all the virtues are in the Republican party or all faults in the opposition," he said.

Trying to erase the record of some ugly words about Democrats frequently attributed to Vice-President Richard M. Nixon, Knowland added that: "There is only one party of treason in this country, and that is the Communist party."

GOP National Chairman Leonard Hall even carried this brotherly love-your-enemies theme so far as to say that in one respect, he even agreed with Ex-President Truman. "There's nothing we need say about the Stevenson-Kefauver ticket," declared Hall, "that Harry Truman hasn't already said."

THE DIFFERENCE in the two party conventions is the difference between Chicago, with its gang wars and hog butchery, ing, and the city of St. Francis, who loved the birds and the flowers and everything nice.

It is not political fog that rolls in from the Pacific every afternoon, and the skies are not cloudy all day. But seldom is heard a discouraging Republican word.

The oratory is all of a kind to soothe the jangled nerve hung over from Chicago.

It even moved Rep. Katharine St. George of New York to warn the Republicans that they must not be lulled into "apathy and over-confidence... two habits of mind that we Republicans are all too prone to fall into."

THE REPUBLICANS DID make the same mistake the Democrats did in scheduling two opening days of oratory before getting down to business. They were a waste of time for the convention delegates. The real purpose at both conventions was to give the speakers themselves some free, national radio and television publicity.

One improvement the Republicans made was to cut the speeches of the Republican women and congressional candidates to a couple of minutes apiece. Speakers weren't allowed to ramble all over creation in their own inimitably garrulous ways. It was all well-organized so that each GOP candidate was given one subject to speak on, briefly, and the text was written for him.

BENNETT OF UTAH told how the GOP was now all for social security. Dirksen of Illinois gave the Republicans credit for prosperity. McKeever of Oklahoma told what the party had done for widows and veterans. Morton of Kentucky told how small business had been saved. Welker of Idaho defended Hells Canyon dam policy.

For the House candidates, Rep. Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania boasted that the Republicans had given 900 top government jobs to Negroes. Rep. M. R. Laird of Wisconsin said the GOP was committed to a program of full parity for farmers. Rep. Bill Ayres of Ohio told why organized labor was now for Eisenhower. And Rep. Simpson of Pennsylvania said that a Republican Congress ought to be elected just so Joe Martin of Massachusetts could be Speaker of the House again.

So They Say..

This nation, blessed by an abundance beyond the dreams of others, cannot afford to be penny-pinching, timid and mean in the search for ways to make the life of its aged and infirm a better and easier and happier one.

—Sen. Walter F. George (D-Ga.)

I don't do any guessing — I don't play the numbers.
—Gov. Averell Harriman on prospects of support from New Jersey's 36-vote delegation.

We lay this prayer before thee. Thy will be done.

—Prayer of Baptist minister James M. Sibole, whose four-year-old son, Mike, lost his eyes through cancer.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Cow Palace, San Francisco, Aug. 21—The Old Man appealed to the Republican Convention and to the people far beyond the Cow Palace not to give up hope of peace and honor under the republic.

The one American who really deserves the title of elder statesman came along the aisle of the flying bridge on the convention platform, trembling slightly and with a faint smile on his pale, sunken features. His white hair merged into the frog-belly pallor of his face. His step was a little unsteady with his 82 years and Joe Martin, many years younger but himself an old politician, tactfully touched his elbow to steady Herbert Hoover one step up to the pulpit.

The Democratic Convention, in Chicago, with Harry Truman's raucous and abusive vulgarity and his final cheap repudiation of his own insulting remarks to the ultimate nominee, had not the hopes of serious patriots. And the snarling jealousy of a mysterious Republican faction based in New York had further depressed them.

The dissolution of the very blood of the two American political parties by infections of Marx was manifest in ugly blotches on both bodies. And the pundits of journalism and radio were droning, over and over, that the Republicans had nothing to offer but a little more delay in the descent of the once great republic into socialism.

No American knows more about politics than Herbert Hoover and many who know much less are disgusted and almost despondent.

Jimmy Roosevelt, exposed in a monumental scandal of personal nastiness, had been elected with a whoop to represent a California district in Congress. The mother who raised this son and another who is now the fourth husband of his fourth wife, had appeared on the Democratic platform in Chicago to the sound of loud acclaim raised in part by citizens with children of their own. She was saluted there as first lady of the world. The party bosses, true to an impudent tradition of the Roose-

Nixon's Victory Is Called 'The Smear' That Failed

By DAVID LAWRENCE

San Francisco, Aug. 23—This convention has presented the climax to a big story that has been unfolding for many months. The story now can be entitled: "The Smear That Didn't Succeed."

Never in the history of American politics has anything so insidious been attempted—a palpable effort to ruin the personal and political reputation of Richard Nixon by a whispering campaign about his lack of integrity that had not the slightest foundation in fact.

THE RENOMINATION of Vice-President Nixon is not merely a triumph for the man, but for the common sense of the Republican party's leadership, which refused to disqualify a man just because he had been a vigorous campaigner and had aroused the ire of the opposite party.

Long before President Eisenhower suffered a heart attack, the whispering campaign against Nixon was under way. In fact, it was initiated about eighteen months ago by certain extremist groups which resented bitterly his exposure in 1949 of Alger Hiss, a prominent official of the Democratic administration, as having been a Communist who passed papers on to a Soviet spy. The smear was given further momentum by some labor groups close to the Communist side which Nixon had criticized in his California campaign for the United States Senate.

IT SEEMS ODD to suggest that any one should be disqualified for high office just because he offended his political opponents, but that was the main basis for a rash of articles and broadcasts from Democratic party sympathizers who decided that the vice-presidential should be given "more attention." At first, it was not an out-and-out attack on Nixon, but ostensibly an argument for careful selection of a vice-president. It was, however, recognized as a subtle means of discrediting Nixon. The effort suddenly gained renewed attention when the President became ill in September, 1955.

From that time on the stories of an anti-Nixon tone, with plenty of innuendo, began to appear, originating mostly from New York. This was traced to some influential like supporters there who preferred some other candidate—anybody but Nixon. The objections to Nixon usually advanced were vague. First it was contended that he was an "isolationist" and if he became President, would not be liberal with grants of money in a foreign-aid program. This type of gossip was spread throughout Europe, where anti-Nixon comments frequently appeared in some of the newspapers in England, France and Italy.

WHEN IT WAS pointed out by defenders of Nixon that he had carried the ball for the Administration on Capitol Hill in trying to get both the domestic and foreign policies of the President adopted, then the attack was switched to another direction. It was asserted for instance, that "Nixon simply doesn't have the qualifications." This very criticism was voiced repeatedly and given wide currency by certain big newspapers in this country which themselves had been constantly critical of the government's drive against Communists in Federal employ. Nobody ever pointed out clearly what was meant by "qualifications."

The whispering campaign continued to spread throughout the country and abroad. People in Washington who knew Nixon well in the House and the Senate were astounded. The President himself was bewildered at this form of political warfare. He knew Nixon intimately. He sent him around the world on important trips. He entrusted him with missions of importance every day.

In fact, no Vice-President has been admitted to the high councils of an Administration as much as has the present Vice-President.

IT BECAME a bigger and bigger mystery as to what was giving such continuous momentum to the campaign of whispering slander. Then, when the President had to undergo a stomach operation in June and the question of the Vice-Presidency received renewed attention, Mr. Eisenhower was subsequently drawn into the matter through sharp questioning at his press conference. He didn't want, of course, to be placed in the position of dictating the choice of a national convention. So he confined his remarks to a statement that Nixon would be "acceptable" to him. This prompted rumors of another list of Vice-Presidential possibilities that Mr. Eisenhower was supposed to be preparing.

Then Harold Stassen came into the picture. Being ambitious himself and a man with an itch for publicity in politics, he came forth with some so-called "polls." Naturally, after the whispering campaign, there were voters who had been led to believe there was something wrong with Dick Nixon and that his nomination would prove a handicap to the ticket. A lie repeated often enough is believed by many who hear only one side. Hitler capitalized on that technique.

Nobody HAS ever been able to demonstrate to the Republican leaders that Nixon would be a "handicap." In fact, he displaced it on the stump and captivated big audiences. And nobody has yet been able to find a single sentence which Nixon ever uttered saying that the Democrats were "a party of treason." What can be found is a speech at Milwaukee by Dwight Eisenhower in the 1952 campaign in which he mentioned "treason" three times in describing some Communist infiltration into the Truman regime. But the Democrats haven't had the temerity to attack Eisenhower on that point. So they tried to reach in behind him and attack Nixon. The President, however, saw through all this and remained loyal to the vice president.

Small wonder that, on arriving here, the President emphatically told a press conference that Nixon had done "an extraordinary job" and is "as good a man as you can get." The vast majority of the delegates to the Republican convention had already concluded: "If he's good enough for Ike, he's good enough for us."

(Reproduction rights reserved)

thus kicked in the teeth all those adherents of Senator Bob Taft who had helped elect Ike in 1952.

In both Chicago and San Francisco headquarters had been set up of angry, bewildered pro-Americans, including many who have come to hate foreigners and foreign countries without concealment or apology. Former Senator Charles McNamara of West Virginia, a good Republican, and Senator Pat McCarran, of Nevada, a great Democrat, both had been vilified, hounded and ridiculed for their "narrow nationalism" by secret forces fiercely loyal only to alien interests and no less hostile to the interests of the United States.

So, as Mr. Hoover was now to point out in plain words which gave his thought simplicity and almost originality, "there are some members of both parties who are out of their proper spiritual home."

How long had it been since a leading politician had spoken to Americans without cant or smirk but reverently and sincerely about God, as this humble old man did toward the close of his counsel and his life—"My faith arises from the genius of our people, their devotion to personal liberty and their sustaining religious beliefs. I wish for all the guidance of Almighty Providence. May God bless you!"

Questions -- Answers

Q—What is the origin of the word "skinfint"?

A—This expression started back when flint was used to make fires. The flint would have to be sliced off thinner and thinner for each new fire. The "skinfint" was one who would use the flint down to its final layer of skin.

Q—What dates other than January 1 have been used to indicate the first day of the year?

A—The first day of the year has varied from December 25 to March 25 in different parts of the world. January 1 is the date now recognized in almost all countries.

Q—What is the source of the poisonous drug ergot?

A—It is obtained from a fungus that attacks wheat, barley, rye and many wild grasses.

Vets May Resume Training Course After Discharge

Veterans who interrupt their Korean GI Bill training to go back into military service will be permitted to resume their courses after discharge, even though their starting "cut-off" date has passed, Director Howard Shurter of the Ulster County Veterans Service Agency said today.

Mr. Shurter pointed out that ordinarily, a veteran who suspends GI training after his "cut-off" date for more than 12 consecutive months must prove to the Veterans Administration that the suspension over and above the 12 month period was due to reasons beyond his control and in addition he must get VA's prior approval before he may continue his training.

He said that the VA has ruled that a training suspension of longer than 12 months, caused by a veterans return to active military duty, will be considered to have been caused by a reason "beyond his control." Therefore, after the veteran is finally released from service, he will be allowed to resume his elected program of GI training—so long as he does so within a reasonable period following his discharge or release.

Mr. Shurter explained that conditions are different for veteran-trainees who suspend their courses for periods of 12 months or less, after their "cut-off" date. Under the law, they do not need to justify their suspension, nor do they need VA approval in order to get back into training. It is only suspensions of longer than 12 months that require justification and approval.

Mr. Shurter said that due to many different conditions of each veteran-trainee, it would be advisable for them to visit the office at 32 Main street, Kingston, or the branch offices in Ellenville, Highland and Saugerties to discuss their particular problems.

Holding up an ace is common at no-trump contracts. In today's hand, played at a trump contract, South held up an ace for a peculiar reason.

West opened the queen of hearts, and South played low from the dummy. East carelessly played low, and West was allowed to hold the trick.

West continued with a heart for lack of anything better to do, and dummy won. Declarer next drew two rounds of trumps, cashed the top diamonds, and gave up a diamond trick.

When East now led a club, South played low and end-played West. If West returned a club, South would get a free finesse; and if West returned anything else, dummy could ruff while South discarded the queen of clubs.

East could have saved the day by playing the king of hearts at the first trick. He could then return a club to give his partner one immediate trick in that suit. East would later get the lead with a diamond and could return another club, thus rescuing his partner from the end-play and defeating the contract.

If declarer had won the first trick with dummy's ace of hearts, it would have been easy for East to rescue his partner from the end-play. South would have to draw trumps and play the diamonds and the danger would be obvious. East would make sure to win the heart trick with the king and return a club, and he would use his diamond trick for the same purpose.

Stone Ridge Is Voting Today on Fire Equipment

Taxpayers of the Stone Ridge Fire District will vote today on two bond issues totalling $23,000 for the purchase of a new fire truck and new tank truck chassis.

Polls will be open from 7 to 10 p. m.

One bond for $20,000 would cover the purchase of a new pumper truck with a 1,000 gallon tank, 1,000 feet of 2½ inch hose, 500 feet of 1½ inch hose and 400 feet of booster hose. The pump would have a capacity of 750 gallons per minute and would be equipped with high pressure fog nozzles.

The $3,000 bond would be used to pay for the new tank truck chassis already in service.

The present equipment of the fire district is a 1939 Sanford on a Chevrolet chassis with a 300-gallon tank, 200 feet of hose and a pump capable of throwing 60 gallons per minute.

Wages Are Paid

Sentence in the case of Walter Mayes, 33, of Lake Carmel, a contractor, charged with non-payment of wages, was suspended by Justice of the Peace Frank Carle of the town of Olive this morning when Mr. Mayes paid the wages in question to the New York State Department of Labor. Mr. Mayes was arrested by the Putnam county sheriff's office at request of the local sheriff's department. Undersheriff Clayton W. Vredenburg and County Investigator Arthur Brown returned Mr. Mayes Wednesday night for a hearing before Judge Carle. Mr. Mayes entered a plea of guilty and agreed to pay the wages due. It was reported that the wages have been due for more than a year.

Former Resident Is Soldier of the Year at Ft. Riley

M/Sgt. Gerald F. Moroney, a former resident of this city, now stationed at Fort Riley, Kan., has been named the 18th Infantry Regiment's Soldier of the Year.

Sgt. Moroney is among five representatives of the major commands of the 1st Infantry Division now being honored at the annual reunion of "The Big Red One" at Boston, Mass., which ends Sunday.

STUBBORN courage characterized Sgt. Moroney's combat career during two wars on two continents.

He escaped from German prison camps twice after he had been wounded and captured on the bloody Anzio beachhead in February, 1944. It was after he escaped twice that the Germans placed him in the maximum security prisoner of war camp at Moosburg, near Munich, that they were able to hold him until the end of the war.

HE WENT to Korea early in that police action and while directing artillery fire from the turret of a 7th Infantry Division tank near the Hwachon reservoir he was seriously wounded.

Sgt. Moroney said he "got mad about that time" and ignoring his wound, rallied his rifle squad and stormed the position his unit was attacking, taking the objective. He was awarded the Silver Star for valor for that action.

He has served 12 years in the U. S. Army, the last three and a half with 1st Division's 18th Infantry.

Sgt. Moroney is married to the former Miss Sally O'Banks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John O'Banks of Port Ewen. They have four children and make their home at 1029 Vattier street, Manhattan, Kan.

HIS DECORATIONS include, besides the Silver Star, the Bronze Star, Purple Heart, Oak Leaf cluster and numerous unit citations and theatre ribbons.

He is accompanied on the Boston trip by Col. William A. Cunningham, regimental commander, and six other members of the vanguard unit to the Sheraton-Plaza Hotel for the three-day reunion.

Seven Believed Killed in Crash Of Two Aircraft

Algiers, Algeria, Aug. 23 (AP)—Two military planes collided in flight today, killing a French general and several staff officers. The collision occurred between Sidi-bel-Abbes and Tlemcen in western Algeria.

First reports said seven were killed in the accident, including Gen. Fernand Besancon, 59, inspector general of artillery and antiaircraft defenses for the French army. Gen. Besancon was deputy commander in the French occupation zone of Germany after the war.

Stevenson Picks 2 Major Targets
Libertyville, Ill., Aug. 23 (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson picked Vice President Nixon and Republican differences in Congress as two major targets today as he welcomed President Eisenhower's renomination and the opportunity "to be matched against him again."

The Democratic presidential nominee spoke sarcastically of Harold E. Stassen's final support of Nixon's renomination and declared he supposed "we will now witness the greatest dirty cleaning job in our political history."

Stevenson spokesmen said this was a reference to Nixon's style of campaigning and frequent Democratic complaints that Eisenhower's running mate is the GOP "hatchet man."

The biting statement came from Stevenson's farm home near here shortly before midnight. He had just completed a conference lasting several hours with James E. Finnegan, his campaign manager, and Democratic National Chairman Paul Butler.

They talked over a campaign drive envisioning one of the heaviest speech-making tours ever attempted by a White House candidate.

Stevenson is expected to announce shortly a campaign organization in which Clayton Fritchey, former Cleveland and New Orleans newspaper executive and deputy national chairman, will be his top press secretary.

Robert J. Perry, 86, of 25 Spring street, Ellenville, died Wednesday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Lewis Brooks. He was born at Black Lake, N. Y., Oct. 24, 1869, the son of William and Elizabeth Schnoor Perry. Mr. Perry was married September, 1891 at Hancock to the late Alice Anderson who died 25 years ago. He was a member of the Methodist Church of Pine Mill, Pa. Surviving are two sons, Clark W. Perry of Imperial Beach, Calif., and Horton R. Perry of Covina, Calif.; a daughter, Mrs. Lewis Brooks of Ellenville. Six grandchildren and 11 great grandchildren also survive. Funeral services will be held Saturday at 2 p. m., at Pine Mill Methodist Church with the Rev. Ralph Spoor, Jr., pastor of the Ellenville Methodist Church, officiating. Burial will be in Pine Mill Cemetery. Friends may call at the Loucks Funeral Home, 79 North Main street, Ellenville, any time until Saturday at 10 a. m.

Mrs. Bertha C. Burleigh, 74, of Highland, died suddenly Wednesday as a result of a heart seizure. Mrs. Burleigh had lived in Highland the last 15 years, moving there from Plutarch. She was the widow of the late George Burleigh. Mrs. Burleigh was born in Gray, Maine, the daughter of the late George and Elizabeth Moberly Sawyer. Surviving are three sons, Daniel Burleigh of New Jersey, George Burleigh of Pleasant Valley and Nathaniel Burleigh of Highland with whom she made her home; three daughters, Mrs. Casper Davis of Highland, Mrs. Vernon Minard of Hyde Park and Mrs. Bertha Sawyer of Portland, Maine; one brother, William Sawyer of Gray, Maine; one sister, Mrs. Edith Christian of Portland, Maine. Twelve grandchildren also survive. Funeral services will be held Friday at 2 p. m. from the Pine Funeral Home, New Paltz, with the Rev. Willett Porter, pastor of the New Paltz Methodist Church, officiating. Burial will be in Lloyd Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home this evening.

Mrs. Bertha E. Williams, 72, of the funeral of Mrs. Bertha E. Williams was held Wednesday at 2 p. m. from the Jensen and Deegan Funeral Home, 15 Downs street, before a large gathering of relatives and many friends. The Rev. Vardell Swett, pastor of Ponchockie Congregational Church, officiated. During the bereavement, hundreds called at the chapel to pay their respects to the family. The Kingston City fire commissioners, fire chief, and entire personnel of the paid fire department called Tuesday out of respect to the mother of one of their members, Fred A. Williams. Officers and members of Kingston Chapter, 155, OES, held ritualistic services Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. for their departed member. At 8 p. m. members of the 50 Club visited the chapel in a body. Beautiful floral tributes testified to the high esteem in which she was held. Burial took place in Rosendale Plains Cemetery where the Rev. Mr. Swett held the committal service. Bearers, all grandsons of Mrs. Williams, were Thomas Brocco, Albert Prindle, Monty Donald, Gilbert and Raymond Williams.

Smith to Attend Chicago Parley on Mail Advertising
Warren F. Smith of Smith Mail Advertising Service, Inc., 95 John street, will leave Friday morning to attend the annual convention of the International Mail Advertising Service Association at the Drake Hotel, Chicago.

The convention will be in progress from August 24 to 28.

Mr. Smith, who will fly out and back, said he anticipated an interesting convention and hoped to "come back with some new ideas."

He said there would be a lot of new equipment on view, such as offset presses, all duplicating presses and machines, and a number of exhibits by all suppliers of lettershop equipment and materials. There will be many clinics, demonstrations and panels.

Mr. Smith, who is national chairman of the lettershop advertising exchange, will conduct this phase of the convention program.

Candidates Claim Ike Looks Fine
San Francisco, Aug. 23 (AP)—President Eisenhower set to work today to help elect a Republican Congress while waiting to make his own address before the party's convention accepting the renomination.

Later in the day the president was expected to lay his administration's record on the line in the bid for a second term.

EISENHOWER RECEIVED a group of 27 candidates for the House—some of them incumbent—at his suite at the St. Francis hotel.

U. S. Agrees To Take Suez Plan to Cairo

London, Aug. 23 (AP)—The London conference on the Suez canal ended officially late today with the United States agreeing to join a five-power group to carry the majority decision for international operation of the canal to Egypt's government.

The 22-nation conference finally broke out of the procedural snarl which had slowed its last hours when the 18 powers supporting internationalization decided to make their own arrangement for presenting the decision to Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser.

It was understood that the 18-power decision for international operation of the canal would not be presented as a decision of the conference as a whole.

Four other nations—Russia, India, Indonesia and Ceylon—favored an Indian plan for Egyptian operation with some international supervision and advice. The western plan to hand Nasser a full report on the discussions during the eight-day closed parley—including the opposing Indian plan supported by Russia, Ceylon and Indonesia. This would leave actual control of the waterway in Egypt's hands, with an international board set up only to advise the Egyptians.

Egypt's reported threat to hold up British and French ships using the canal stunned conference delegates. An official of the nationalized canal company by Nasser was quoted as threatening to delay the ships if French men and Englishmen working as canal pilots quit their jobs.

Caravan Makes Tour of Mexico, Studies Conditions

The Mexican caravan headed by the Rev. and Mrs. Arthur E. Oudemool of the Old Dutch Church entered Mexico at Nogales early this morning during the rainy season, according to a recent letter from Helen Kukuk, a member of the group.

The caravan, composed of Mr. and Mrs. Oudemool and 18 young people, left Kingston July 22 for a six-week tour of the western United States and Mexico. They will return early next month.

Miss Kukuk describes the changes in landscape from green fields and rolling hills to a more desert-like terrain, "with many new kinds of cactus and many many bushes of flowering purple sage." She also describes attempts by members of the caravan to read the road signs which are in Spanish.

"Little children are along the roadside waving and begging ciscos, or five-centavo pieces. Some were holding blue pails and, stopping, we found they contained cheese which, of course, we could not eat."

"Their houses are of adobe, with dirt floors and open doorways so animals may wander in and out at will. The younger children are naked, with the distended abdomens of malnutrition. Older children dress like the adults of cactus and many many bushes of flowering purple sage." She also describes attempts by members of the caravan to read the road signs which are in Spanish.

"I believe one main purpose of the rebobo is to keep the sun off their heads in the heat of the day. Other uses, include warmth, a padding when carrying pails of water on their heads, a place to carry the baby or the packages they have just purchased. Many of the men wear tan or white pants and shirts, which is especially striking with their dark skins. Everyone wears a hat."

Miss Kukuk tells how amazed they were in Hermosillo, the capital of Sonora, that the people survived under such poor living conditions. In the city are lovely haciendas but at the edges of the city are "the poorest hovels you could imagine. Pieces of metal sheeting or even old papers piled together are the only shelter they have."

Miss Kukuk says they stayed at Guaymas on the Bay of California the following night and describes a dip in the ocean.

She writes that tires are very hard to find. They had two flats within two days. She tells about their stay in Culican in the center of a rich agricultural section and in Mazatlan on the Pacific, sleep beside an exquisite beach to the "noise of the waves but none of us wanted to leave our sleeping bags for fear of the sand crabs running around, playing beneath the cots."

They stayed in Tepic overnight with another flat tire and the next day continued to Guadalajara by a "bumpy and rolling road."

Grant Permission For TV Business

Attorney Joseph Avis, local zoning board president, today announced that the board had decided in favor of Harold Kidd and Worley J. Sturgill, of Liberty street, on their application to operate a television and radio sales and service business in the former Jones Dairy building on Shufeldt street.

The application was granted, he said, on the basis that the business is less objectionable and less hazardous than that previously operated at the premises. The property, which had been used for business when the city's zoning laws were enacted in 1928, was classified as non-conforming. Hearing was held recently on the application to use it for television and radio repair and service purposes.

Phone Wires May Carry Image, Words

Los Angeles, Aug. 23 (AP)—The day may be coming when ordinary telephone wires will carry a person's image as well as his words.

Bell Telephone Laboratories announced yesterday at the west coast electronics convention here that live pictures have been successfully transmitted coast to coast on regular telephone circuits.

The pictures vary in size from 1 x 1 inches to 2 x 3 inches and can be dialed like an ordinary telephone call, engineers said, but a caller cannot see the person called unless the latter flips a switch.

Bell said the equipment is still being tested and is not ready for manufacture or commercial use.

British Aid Is Sought on Fate Of Naval Plane

Washington, Aug. 23 (AP)—The United States is asking Britain to find out whether Red China has any information on the fate of a navy patrol plane which is missing off the China coast after an attack by unidentified aircraft.

Britain has diplomatic relations with Red China; the United States does not.

A STATE Department spokesman said the department is making the inquiry through the British Embassy in Washington. The embassy will relay the request to London for transmission to the British Diplomatic Mission in Peking.

The State Department acted after receiving a formal report from Navy Headquarters here that a Martin P4M-1 Mercator with four officers and 12 enlisted men aboard had been attacked at 1:25 a. m. Thursday, local time, off the China coast north of Formosa while over international waters.

State Department Press Officer Joseph Reap issued this statement:

"OUR NAVY authorities have published a preliminary report of the United States Navy patrol plane said to be missing and unaccounted for apparently after an attack by unidentified aircraft."

We have been informed by the department of defense that the Commander of the United States Seventh Fleet has undertaken an immediate air and surface search for the plane and survivors.

"The Department of State is endeavoring to obtain whatever information it can regarding the incident and will take such steps as may be indicated after the facts are ascertained."

No Trace . . .

Formosa and then was to circle back up to Naha, Okinawa, the navy said. U. S. patrol planes operating in China waters have instructions to keep at least 12 nautical miles away from the Communist mainland.

THE MISSING CRAFT, part of the U. S. 7th fleet's Formosa patrol force, was based at Iwakuni Naval Air Station, near Hiroshima in southern Honshu, Japan.

The Far East air force ordered the search to continue around the clock and sent more planes to the area from bases in Japan. The Navy said it expected 10-mile visibility tonight, with conditions similar to those at the time of the attack.

There was unofficial speculation on Formosa that the Mercator might have crashed on the Chinese mainland, or that Communist surface craft might have picked up any survivors if the plane crashed at sea.

A Navy spokesman said the plane was armed with only three machineguns, presumably 50 caliber. He said it "did not have any heavy arms."

Driver Absolved

accidents and proposed new rules for truck safety.

Killed in the crash were Waters, 34, stationed at Plattsburgh Air Force Base; his wife, Ruth, their two sons, James Jr., 10, and Garry, 8, and a nephew, Gerald Burdick, 14, of Elmira Heights.

Gallagher had been free in $2,000 bail pending the action of the grand jury. He was hurt in the crash.

James Smith, an assistant district attorney, said the jury apparently felt Gallagher was blameless in the accident. He said the jurors also had declined to indict Gallagher on a lesser charge.

Two Youths Sought Who Took Motorboat

New York, Aug. 23 (AP)—Police sought today two teenage youths who took a rented outboard motorboat out into Jamaica bay yesterday and failed to return it to its owner.

The boat, minus outboard motor, was found in the bay by Coast Guard and Police Harbor Patrol. Police theorized that the youths, unidentified, put into shore after renting the boat, took the motor and pushed the boat back into the bay.

Search for the boys and the boat was begun at 1 a. m. when Karl Kirchner, operator of a fishing station at 254-04 Rockaway Blvd., Me a d o m e r e Queens, told police the youths and the boat were missing. He said the youths, both about 18, had rented the boat for $10 and said they were going fluke fishing.

Kirchner said he knew the youths by sight but not by name.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Aug. 23 (AP)—The stock market today put on its best show of strength in more than a week, with key issues up 1 to around 2 points in the early afternoon.

Steel, metal, oil and aircraft shares were favored in a morning rally, which for a time extended gains to around 3 points.

Volume, which has been unusually low, speeded up as prices improved. In early afternoon, prices were below their best with trading at a slower pace.

OFFERS BET IKE Will Live Out Term
Milan, Tenn., Aug. 23 (AP)—A Tennessee delegate to the GOP convention offers to bet $5,000 that President Eisenhower, if reelected, will live out his four-year term.

"Put up or shut up," says Guy Harwood, a wealthy real estate dealer now attending the Republican convention in San Francisco.

He deposited the money in the Peoples-Farmers Bank here and got a notarized document stating that the money was in the bank to back his opinion of Eisenhower's health against any better authority.

He figures the odds at even money. Anyone taking the bet must put up $5,000. Too. Bank cashier George Culbreath said the winner collects the $10,000 plus any accumulated interest.

The president is 65. Within the past 12 months he has suffered a heart attack and a siege of an intestinal ailment called ileitis.

Says Sheriff Must Take Blame for May Jail Break

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 23 (AP)—Correction Commissioner Thomas J. McHugh said today that Sheriff Dana T. Burt of Schuyl county must bear the "primary responsibility" for a break from the Schuyl county jail last May 20.

McHugh said the correction commission, of which he is chairman, had approved a special report describing the jail at Watkins Glen as "poorly administered" and finding that prisoners were "inadequately supervised."

James T. Carter, 32, and John T. Dedrick, 23, of Mansfield, Pa., and Corning, N. Y., broke out of the jail by crawling through an unused heating duct.

One later was killed by the other, apparently accidentally in a gunbattle with police in Chautauque county.

"That escape should have been avoided," the report said. "Primary responsibility for this escape must fall on the sheriff. He was lax in his duties. If he thought they were too burdensome, he should have asked for additional help."

Weekly Food Review

(By The Associated Press)

Housewives nosing around for a bargain in the nation's supermarkets and corner groceries this weekend will find a variety of meats on sale—fried chicken, veal, lamb and ham.

No one store is likely to feature all four, of course, but all will be on sale at one store or another.

CHICKENS HAVE been featured almost every week this summer, which is normal during the hot months, but government figures released this week showed there was even more reason than usual.

Commercial broiler production, which totalled 2½ billion pounds for the entire year of 1951, passed the 2 billion mark during the first seven months. For the year, it looks like a record total of around 3½ billion pounds.

Conspicuously absent from the large type in newspaper advertisements and big signs in most stores are sirloin steak and rib roast. The reason? Both are up from 3 to 10 cents a pound in many stores, quickly reflecting record high wholesale prices for beef cattle. The wholesale peak was just last week, so the retail price may still be on its way up.

TO BALANCE the beef increase, however, pullet eggs are available at steep savings in many areas. This is the start of the "flush" season, when young chickens first start laying eggs, so the pullet eggs are more numerous. Later, medium size eggs will be in the biggest supply.

Right now, however, one nation-wide chain is selling pullet eggs at 53 cents a dozen vs. large eggs at 67 cents in the New York area. That's too much of a bargain for most shoppers to miss.

MOST VEGETABLES also are in good supply this week, with beans, cabbage, carrots, cauliflower and onions all rated as good buys. Salad staples such as lettuce, celery, cucumbers, onions and green peppers also have low price tags.

August traditionally is a fairly slow month in the produce business, and government produce experts say it's because this is the time of year that home gardeners are harvesting their "crops."

Similarly, home canning is in full swing now for those women who still practice the art, and there are good supplies of cooking apples, grapes and plums.

Peaches were reported a little high in price in some areas this week, but blueberries, cantaloupe and watermelons are good buys at most fruit counters.

College Cornerstone

Carbondale, Ill. (AP) — Ever wonder what's tucked away behind those college cornerstones? Illinois Governor William G. Stratton mortared up the cornerstone of Southern Illinois University's agriculture building. Among the 25 items sealed away were an agricultural bulletin entitled: "Shall Southern Illinois Vegetables Go South in

SWEET PIE

By Nadine Seltzer

"Something must have gone wrong!"

August?" and a reprint from a cattlemen's magazine: "Where Will Crossbreeding Lead You?" Not very exciting you say? Well then check the next two leaflets that will probably be as timely a thousand years hence as they are today: "Poison Ivy" and "Chiggers."

Add a teaspoon of Worcestershire sauce to that pound of ground meat you are planning to use for hamburgers.

Quick Thinking

Muncie, Ind. (AP)—Officials of nearby Yorktown did some quick thinking when the dump mechanism on a truck carrying hot asphalt through the town tripped accidentally. They did a fast job of spreading the spilled asphalt over the street. It was intended for a job out of town.

There are about 23 million bicycles in the United States.

Shandaken

Shandaken, Aug. 22—Mrs. Isa Murray is visiting Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Hummel.

Mr. and Mrs. Hubbard Warnk of New Canaan, Conn., were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. Steele Sherratt.

Mr. and Mrs. George Fouhy and sons of Franklin Square, L. I., are spending their vacation here. Mr. Fouhy grew up in Shandaken and his parents owned the hotel which is now the Travelers Inn.

Mrs. Leonard Ford has completed her course of study at the summer school in Oneonta.

The net proceeds of the WSCS fair were $375.

Dennis Roosa is visiting at the home of his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Roosa in Bovina Center.

The Shandaken Men's Club

picnic scheduled last Sunday was postponed because of rain.

Mrs. Nate Haines of Dryden and her mother, Mrs. Bertha Eignor of Big Indian were recent guests of Mrs. W. C. Hummel.

The Rev. F. W. Coutant of Port Ewen preached in the Methodist Church last Sunday in the absence of the pastor, the Rev. Peter T. Ream who was ill.

Billy Heick, machinist mate third class, of the USS Denebola stationed at Norfolk, Va., spent the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Heick.

Mrs. John D. Cox, Jr., of Pittsfield, Mass., was an overnight guest of her mother, Mrs. F. S. Osterhoudt on Tuesday.

Mrs. Susanna Garcia of New York city was a weekend guest of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Rose.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bell and sons, David and Alan of Poughkeepsie, spent the weekend with Mrs. Bell's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Hummel. Alan remained for a few days visit.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Rohaley and son, Michael of Welland, Ont., recently spent two weeks with Mrs. Rohaley's mother, Mrs. Theron Townsend.

WOODSTOCK NEWS

By RICHARD E. THIBAUT, Jr.

Kiepura, Gorbaty Perform in Final Maverick Concert

Woodstock, Aug. 23—"I might have to build a larger hall for next season to accommodate all my friends," said H. A. Schimmerling after his final concert Monday, Aug. 20, in the Harmony Hill Series at the Maverick. Deeply touched by the response from the crowd of 300 enthusiastic guests, he added humorously, "I have expressed my gratitude to the people for their faithfulness and the overwhelming welcome given to my guest artists; but now I feel I owe a debt of gratitude even to those few who did not attend the recital because, through their absence, they helped to solve the parking and seating problems."

The Harmony Hill idea is a popular one. It was started only last year by Mr. Schimmerling with a few recitals on Saturday and apparently has initiated the movement that brought so much more good music to this town. This year's Harmony Hill Series showed that even a Monday, the most neglected weekday in summer resorts is good enough to draw a large audience for a worthwhile enterprise.

Ladis Kiepura, tenor, and Jan Gorbaty, pianist gave a brilliant performance of Polish music including compositions by Chopin, Paderewski, Moniuszko, Kassern, Jarecki, Rathaus and Szymanowski. In addition, Mr. Kiepura sang some Polish folksongs, humorously explained by Mr. Schimmerling who also accompanied Mr. Kiepura. Both artists were enthusiastically acclaimed by the audience.

Previous events of the Harmony Hill Series included recitals of Slavic, Jewish, Dutch and Rumanian music. In addition, Mr. Schimmerling introduced a number of contemporary American composers and also performed a few seldom heard works of neglected European composers of the 20th century.

Free School Books Provided

Free school books are provided on the Magdalen Islands, in the Gulf of St. Lawrence. Parents say its still expensive as they are assessed for damaged or lost books.

Squeaking Shoes

Omaha (AP)—When a woman patient complained that the nurses' squeaking shoes bothered her, Clarkson Hospital officials took quick action to remedy the situation. Hal G. Perrin, hospital administrator, reporting on a patient questionnaire, told about the shoe squeaking complaint. He reported the hospital changed its method of waxing the rubber tile floor and eliminated the squeak.

Boys Think Dynamite Sticks Are Candy

Medina, N. Y., Aug. 23 (AP)—Four Medina youngsters have come unscathed through a romp with several sticks of dynamite which they thought were candy.

Police said the youngsters, boys from seven to 12 years old, played for several hours yesterday with dynamite sticks which they pried from a box chained to a tree in a field.

One of them told police he chewed up part of a stick and found it sweet. Another said he threw one into a fire where it burned harmlessly.

The game ended abruptly when the mother of one of them identified the "candy" and summoned state police.

The box of explosive belonged to a construction company and was labeled and stored behind its main building on posted land.

Odd Fellows Name Syracuse Man as New Grand Master

Buffalo, N. Y., Aug. 23 (AP)—William H. England of Syracuse has taken over as new grand master of the Grand Lodge of the State of New York Independent Order of Odd Fellows.

England was installed in ceremonies here last night to succeed Clarence A. Munter of Buffalo.

Others installed included: Benjamin B. Freifeld of New York, deputy grand master; Marsh Howell of Rochester, grand warden; William Klumpen of New York, re-elected grand secretary; Frederick Diehl of Rochester, re-elected grand secretary; and Frank Reiner, representative to the Sovereign Grand Lodge.

Adventists List Weekly Services

Sabbath school of the Kingston Seventh-day Adventist Church, 30 Pearl street, will commence at 1:45 p. m. Saturday with a song service. After opening exercises, classes will separate for the study of the lesson entitled, "Choosing the Twelve."

Between Sabbath school and church, which begins at 3 p. m. there will be a mission period with a story of the Adventist work in Mexico.

The Rev. Jamile Jacobs has chosen as his sermon title, "We Are Nearing Home." All are welcome to this worship service. There will be no prayer meeting this week.

Everyone has a pet form of advertising, but, after all have been tried and tested, want ads will be on top. Phone 5000 today.

NAVY PATROL PLANE SHOT DOWN OFF CHINA—This is a P4M-1 Mercator patrol plane, of the type which, the Navy announced Aug. 22, was shot down by "unidentified aircraft" 160 miles north of Formosa and about 32 miles off the China coast. The Navy said the plane was on a routine patrol flight "over International waters" when it was attacked. A P4M-1 normally carries a crew of nine. (AP Wirephoto)

GOP to Conclude Convention Today

San Francisco, Aug. 23 (AP)—Here is the program for the final session today of the Republican national convention:

Opens 3:30 p. m. (PDT) with music, call to order, pledge of allegiance, national anthem and invocation.

Introduction of representative and senators.

Address by Vice President Nixon accepting the renomination (may be skipped since Nixon may decide to stay at sick father's bedside at Whittier, Calif.).

Address by President Eisenhower accepting renomination. Benediction and final adjournment.

Kefauver Resting

Blowing Rock, N. C., Aug. 23 (AP)—Estes Keafuwer, admittedly "over-tired" from last week's Democratic national convention at Chicago, rested and admired the mountain scenery at this resort today, while his press secretary fended off newsmen and the curious. The Tennessee senator is "just pooped," Press Secretary Dixon Donnelly said yesterday after his boss arrived here for a few days vacation.

Committees Announced For 50 Club Outing

Convention Sidelights

San Francisco, Aug. 23 (AP)—And then there's the one about the two elderly ladies at the Republican national convention listening to a speaker who kept mentioning "Dwight D. Eisenhower."

Finally one of the ladies whispered: "This Dwight Eisenhower—is he any relation to Ike?"

San Francisco, Aug. 23 (AP)—North and south in the arts met in the lobby of the Republican convention hotel as the party faithful whooped it up over the Eisenhower-Nixon ticket.

In the stately Fairmont last night, Harry Mason's Dixieland Five pounded out "Muskkrat Ramble" to the delight of the milling mob.

Off to one side, quiet under a spotlight and the protective eye of a uniformed guard, was a gilded bronze bust of Abraham Lincoln. A sign declared it "the only one of its kind in the world"—sculptured by Franklin Simmons in 1865, the year Lincoln died, and owned by Chester Orsini of Meriden, Conn.

San Francisco, Aug. 23 (AP)—Seen on San Francisco's Post street:

An Eisenhower bandwagon car with its big "let's back Ike!" sign sabotaged. An "S" had been painted neatly over the "B."

Tangy Pine Bark Stew
Made With Perch Fillets

CREOLE SAUCE, simmering in a casserole, contains delightful morsels of perch fillets cooked to a turn.

BY GAYNOR MADDOX

NEA Food and Markets Editor

Pine bark stew — a savory southern dish — was created to appeal to men's appetites.

It is a specialty in the pine country of South Carolina and it has traveled to Florida by way of one of its enthusiasts, Tom Smoot of Edison Park, Fla., a native of the Carolinas. He proudly serves it to groups of four or 40, ladling it from an old-fashioned iron kettle.

This entree is at home in a Florida cabana or served from a chafing dish at a fireside supper. True to its beginning, it features foods that please southern palates. In a springy seasoned creole sauce made with plenty of tomatoes to which the favorite well-browned salt pork is added for flavor, generous portions of fish fillets are gently cooked. Perch or any fish fillet may be used. The final touch is to spoon helpings of the stew over circles of crisp French bread (triangles of enriched bread may be used).

Pine bark stew makes an excellent one-dish meal. A tossed salad, a relish tray, or a bowl of fresh fruit can be served to complete the menu.

Pine Bark Stew
(Yield: 2 quarts)

One pound salt pork, 3 cups chopped onions, 3 cups or 1 (No. 2 1/2) can tomatoes, 1/4 cup vinegar, 1 cup catsup, 3 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce, few drops of Tabasco, 6 perch fillets, 6 (1-inch) slices French bread. Cube the salt pork into 1/2-inch pieces and brown well in a 3-quart pan or large skillet. Add onion, tomatoes, vinegar, catsup, Worcestershire sauce and Tabasco to taste. Simmer 5 minutes. Add fish fillets and cook 10 to 12 minutes longer. Place one thick slice of French bread in each of six large soup bowls. Top with stew.

TOMORROW'S DINNER: Melon cup, pine bark stew served on thick slices of French bread, extra French bread, butter or margarine, cabbage and green pepper salad, hot blackberry roll, vanilla ice cream, coffee, tea, milk.

Why We Say--

WISDOM TEETH

OLD AGES: The Romans thought that the last teeth that humans get in their mouths are signs of wisdom because they come at such an old age. However, the teeth appear at very diverse ages in different individuals. They can appear at anywhere from the age of 14 to 65 and 40 percent of the people never cut them at all.

Arab League Rallies Behind Nasser ---

As representatives of 22 powers in London sought a solution of the Suez Canal crisis, leaders of the 11-state Arab League worked furiously to rally their millions of Arabs to the banner of Egypt's President Gamal Abdel Nasser. Egypt believes that the friendship and support of its Arab neighbors is its greatest source of strength in international affairs. The League, shown on map above, could be the core to which other Arab states might adhere, bringing into existence a long-time Arab dream—a United Arab States of the Middle East. In Cairo, the semi-official Mideast News Agency declared a new anti-Western underground has been organized in Jordan, with connections throughout the Arab world. Its members are pledged to sabotage Western oil facilities "when the signal is given."

Would Ban Atom From Politics

AP Special Washington Service Washington, Aug. 23 (AP)—Rep. Cole (R-NY) wants Democrats and Republicans to join "in a concerted effort" to keep the atom out of politics.

Cole, whose views on the subject are carried in the final issue of the 84th Congress' "Congressional Record," said:

"The atom should be and must be above partisan politics—our national interest, security and prestige require no less."

"If we do not, our national position will gravely suffer and shall fail in our solemn obligation to bring the blessings of atomic energy to our fellow man throughout the world at the earliest possible time."

Asserting the atom "must not be socialized," Cole said "its tremendous force and power will not accept the straitjacket of government monopoly."

"The atom," he said, "has no nationality, it has no religion—and, above all, it has no politics. It is neither Republican nor Democratic."

"But neither is it static; it will not await the machination and manipulations of maneuvering politicians. It demands attention and action with a minimum of governmental restraint and regulation."

"If America does not give the atom the green light of go ahead," he warned, "it will find its proper place in foreign lands where its benign power is not only appreciated but will be realized."

Lyonsville

Lyonsville, Aug. 22—Lyonsville Reformed Church, the Rev. Richard B. Coons, pastor—Worship service Sunday at 11:15 a. m. Everyone welcome.

Several members of the Kripplush Methodist Church attended services here Sunday.

The second annual church auction will be held Saturday at 6 p. m. at Lyonsville Community Club house. Among items to be offered for sale is an old-fashioned quilt. Entire proceeds will benefit the repair fund of the Reformed Church.

Mrs. Frank DeFranco and Clyde Roosa were in charge of the refreshments at the monthly business meeting of the Community Club on Saturday evening. The club erected a clubhouse sign made by Peter Knudsen. Members with birthdays in August who were honored with cards and best wishes included Mrs. Lester Judd, Mrs. George Pfeil, Richard Mahon and J. E. Burger.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank DeFranco and Frank, Jr., and grandson, Edmond Wentz, Mr. and Mrs. William Brooks and sons left Monday for Schroon Lake where they will spend several days vacationing.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Cumming are the parents of a son born Aug. 17 at Veterans Hospital, Ellenville.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Burger spent Sunday afternoon at Rips Retreat and North Lake.

Mrs. Clyde Roosa and daughter, Wanda, and Miss Karen Trowbridge of Kyserike motored to Delhi last Tuesday where the girls participated in a 4-H Club dress reue.

The 4-H Club boys who have been meeting for knot rope-tying instructions under the direction of Oscar Christensen exhibited their displays at the Ulster County Fair last week.

Monday Is Deadline

Mechanicville, N. Y., Aug. 23 (AP)—The West Virginia Pulp and Paper Co. has set noon Monday as a deadline for union action on its offer of a pay increase in a range from 21 to 38 cents. The plant has been closed for 28 days in a strike that has idled 930 members of a United Mine Workers local. Pre-strike wages were from $1.55 to $2.22 an hour.

Union Center

Union Center, Aug. 22—At the recent Ulster County Fair, Sherry Markle, a member of the local 4-H Club, had a skirt selected which will be exhibited at the State Fair in Syracuse.

Pack 9, sponsored by the Redeemer Lutheran Church, Kingston, will hold its monthly pack meeting at Lavton Park Aug. 27 at 7 p. m. The ideas committee for this month is Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Krom and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Reynolds.

Den 1 will meet with Freddy Travis on Friday. The next regular meeting will be at the home of their den mother, Mrs. William Daum.

SEE, HEAR ALMOST HERE—The long-dreamed of telephone that transmits pictures along with sound has taken a big stride toward commercial practicality, according to the Bell Telephone Laboratories in New York. W. E. Kock, one of the developers of the new picture-phone, demonstrates a successful experimental model, above. Size of the unit, now about that of a small suitcase, is expected to be reduced. It will be possible to dial a caller's picture like an ordinary telephone call. Bell engineers have transmitted recognizable pictures between New York and Los Angeles.

DO YOU REMEMBER

By SOPHIE MILLER

During this time of presidential conventions many questions on politics and government come up. I quoted before from the Bantam Giant booklet called "Our American Government" by Wright Patman, member of Congress, printed some two years ago. It answers some one thousand and one questions. One of the questions answered in it: When was the White House officially named and how was the name acquired? The answer given is: "The official mansion of the President was not originally designated by law as the White House; it was referred to usually as the President's House, or the Executive Mansion. The gray sandstone walls were painted white to cover smoke stains after the building was burned during the War of 1812, and thereafter it began to be popularly known as the White House. Under President Theodore Roosevelt, the name, 'White House' was used on the President's stationery; today 'White House' is recognized by the State Department 'Style Manual' as the proper form of address."

According to this book there are some 134 rooms in the White House, including kitchens, valet bedrooms, and corridors used as sitting rooms. Some 1,500,000 persons visit it annually and sightseers may enter and inspect such rooms as the east entrance hallway, the East Room, Blue Room, Green Room, Red Room State Dining Room and Reception Hall. To those who have heard about the Napoleon Clock, according to the author, "This timepiece was presented to Lafayette by Napoleon, and by Lafayette to the White House. It is on the mantle in the Blue Room."

There is much on the Library of Congress, which, of course, has an original of our Ulster County Gazette of January 4, 1800, which covers the funeral of George Washington. The newspaper which is nationally famous and was printed right here in Kingston by Samuel Freer, of which there are thousands of copies. According to this book the original appropriation for the Library of Congress was about $5,000 for the purchase of books and the establishment of suitable quarters near the Capitol in 1800. Now, for the past three years, the average annual appropriation has been nearly $10,000,000.

Among the most important documents now (1953 when book written) held by the Library of Congress, the author says, may be listed the Gutenberg Bible, Jefferson's rough draft of the Declaration of Independence and two copies of the Gettysburg Address, in Lincoln's handwriting. While there are some 46 copies of the Gutenberg Bible in existence, the Library's copy is one of the only three perfect copies of vellum. In describing the famous Gutenberg Bible the author writes: "It is the first book ever printed with movable type. It was published in 1445, antedating the discovery of America by some 47 years. Its vellum pages still have strength and beauty, and the luster of its ink and the sturdiness of its binding are as good as new." According to the author, it seems the Monks of St. Blasius, an Austrian order, had owned the Bible for some four centuries when it was acquired by Otto Vollbehr for some $360,000 who sold it to our Library along with 3,000 other items from the 15th Century. Congress appropriated $1,500,000 to pay for them. Now, in that library is our Ulster County Gazette, printed right here in Kingston, of course an original copy.

Nearly all Indian babies in Minnesota now are hospital-delivered.

Car Inspection Clinics to Begin In State Aug. 27

Albany, Aug. 23—Motor Vehicle Commissioner Joseph P. Kelly said today that the Motor Vehicle Bureau will launch a series of clinics in various sections of the state next week to acquaint prospective applicants for inspection station licenses with procedures under the new motor vehicle inspection law.

The law requires annual inspection of all vehicles over four years old and used vehicles under four years of age also must be inspected at the time of sale or transfer.

The clinics, staged by a team of Motor Vehicle Bureau representatives and state police, will demonstrate an actual car inspection for brakes, steering, wheel alignment and lights.

Following the demonstrations, bureau personnel will answer questions concerning the new law and inspection methods.

The first five clinics are slated next week as follows:

Monday, August 27, 10 a. m. and 2 p. m. at New Scotland Avenue Armory in Albany.

Tuesday, August 28, 2 p. m. at Public Works Department garage in Warrensburg.

Wednesday, August 29, 2 p. m. at State Armory in Malone.

Thursday, August 30, 2 p. m. at Public Works Department garage in Watertown.

In ensuing weeks, the clinic will visit Utica, Syracuse, Elmira and Binghamton during the week of September 3; Rochester, Buffalo and Jamestown during the week of September 10; Poughkeepsie, Middletown, Yonkers or White Plains, and New York City during the week of September 17; New York City and Long Island during the week of September 24.

Commissioner Kelly hopes to license between 7,000 and 8,000 private inspection stations before the actual beginning of inspections next February 1.

Shark Hunting Vacation

Decatur, Ill. (P)—Vacation for Mr. and Mrs. Hiser, their two daughters Daryce Adair, 12, and Judy Anne, 9, will consist of hunting for sharks in shallow areas of the Gulf of Mexico. Wawarsing to Get $4,421 for Aid In Flood Damage

A flood repair project of $4,421 in the town of Wawarsing was one of seven which became eligible for state aid, it was announced today by John W. Johnson, state superintendent of public works.

The projects became eligible for state aid under provisions of the $1,500,000 Emergency Flood Repair Bill signed by Gov. Hariman on April 14.

The Wawarsing project was approved for repairs to various town highways.

The other projects are located in Columbia, Suffolk, Westchester and Dutchess counties, and the seven will involve a total of $113,740 in state aid. They are in addition to the 199 flood projects already approved as of July 26.

The Emergency Flood Bill was designed to give state assistance to communities in replacement in kind of public facilities which were damaged in the floods of August and October, 1955.

Allocating of funds for the three bridge reconstruction projects in Columbia county was delayed because county officials did not come forward with a breakdown of estimates until mid-July. These estimates then had to be investigated and approved by the state's flood survey team.

Hurley Democrats Will Meet Again August 28

The newly-organized Hurley Democratic Club has announced a second meeting for Tuesday, Aug. 28, in the fire hall at 8 p. m.

Officers elected last Tuesday were J. J. Carroll, president; Joseph Yack and Mortimer McMahon, vice presidents; John Flanagan, secretary; William Chant, treasurer and Walter Philz Jr., guard.

At the session, Harry Waage urged immediate completion of organizational details "because of continuing problems in all areas of the town of Hurley."

He also urged attendance at town board meetings the last Monday of each month.

Anthony Adelman asked that aims and objectives of the club be clearly stated at an early date.

Cut in Passenger Trains Deemed Help

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 23 (AP)—A Public Service Commission engineer testified Wednesday that the New York Central Railroad, by curtailing passenger service on its West Shore line, would wipe out less than half of the annual deficit it claims.

Lawrence Farnham of New York city, valuation engineer, took the stand as the PSC continued its hearing on the railroad's bid to reduce West Shore passenger operations.

The railroad says it lost $1,395,661 last year on West Shore passenger service.

Farnham, under questioning by Joseph Doran, special PSC counsel, said that if the Central's plan went into effect, the loss would be reduced by 48 per cent, or about $670,000.

Federal income taxes, he said, would reduce the size of any gain in income.

The railroad seeks permission to cut its commuter trains to 11 from the present 22 between Weehawken, N. J. and West Haverstraw, N. Y., and to abandon all passenger service on the rest of the division, the northern terminus of which is Albany.

Migrants' Camp Burns

King Ferry, N. Y., Aug. 23 (AP)—Fire last night drove 200 migrant farm workers from the barrack-type wooden buildings in which they had been living at a camp of the Cayuga Producers Cooperative Inc. None were injured. Room was found in the rest of the camp for those left without quarters. State police said many were family groups who lost all their possessions in the fire, including cash savings. Damage to three buildings destroyed was unofficially estimated at $75,500. Personal losses would add another $45,000, they said.

Will Meet Nominees

Atlanta, Aug. 23 (AP)—Democratic leaders in 10 of the 11 southern states made plans today to meet with Adlai Stevenson and Estes Kefauver in a regional conference to get Dixie solidly behind the party in the November elections. Stevenson, the presidential nominee and his Tennessee running mate will be at Knoxville, Tenn., Aug. 30, for one of a series of whirlwind grassroots visits with party bigwigs throughout the nation. Most southern states have pledged support of the ticket in varying degrees although some show a definite lack of enthusiasm.

15 Persons Hurt In Collision on Jersey Turnpike

New Brunswick, N. J., Aug. 23 (AP)—A loaded bus smashed into a trailer-truck on the fog-bound New Jersey Turnpike today and a dozen more cars piled into the combined wreckage. At least 15 persons were injured, several critically. Trooper Stephen J. Sakli called it "the worst pileup in years—I've never seen anything like it." An eyewitness said at least one passenger was thrown clear from the bus while most of the other passengers couldn't be extricated for an hour. A Philadelphia physician who declined to give his name, and Navy Airman John Paul Hundley, of Ft. Smith, Ark., en route to a new assignment at Quonset Point, R. I., treated many of the injured on the scene.

Paratroopers Are In Power Test

Pope Air Force Base, N. C., Aug. 23 (AP)—The vanguard of more than 8,000 paratroopers jump into the gray dawn sky over drop zones here today, in a large-scale test of mobile regular and reserve striking power dubbed Exercise Pinecone.

The 2,000 troopers who made the first jump here were to be followed up until noon by another 6,000 jumpers, artillery and equipment, brought to the attack area from eight airfields in the Carolinas and Virginia.

Fifteen generals and about 40 other high officers of the Army, Air Force, and airborne elements observed the exercise, as well as almost 100 newsmen.

The week-long exercise, which ends tomorrow after a critique, was planned to test the ability of airborne forces to strike quickly at a central objective from dispersed areas. Use of dispersed areas for marshalling troops to the attack, military men point out, is one defense against A-bomb attacks, which could wipe out a concentrated force.

The exercise also was intended to test the readiness of Air National Guard and Reserve units.

BARGING IN

"Last week my daughter's boy friend offered to drive us home from the beach. On the way he stopped off at his house to pick up something. He asked us to go in but I said we would wait in the car as I did not think it right to barge in on people we did not know unannounced. Apparently he told his mother that we were waiting outside in the car because when he came out he said that his mother was hurt because we would not go in. Under the circumstances, do you think we were right in not going in, or should we have gone in to meet his family. I would very much appreciate your opinion on this matter."

You were right. Instead of feeling "hurt" she should have come out and invited you in, and naturally then you would have gone in.

Announcing Adopted Baby

Dear Mrs. Post: My husband and I are adopting a baby. We will get the child next week but it will take a year before she is legally ours. When would be the proper time to send out the announcement. Should we send them as soon as we get the baby, or must we wait until the baby is legally ours before sending them out?

Answer: You should wait until the baby is legally yours before you send out the announcements.

Who Sends the Invitations?

Dear Mrs. Post: I would appreciate your answering the following question in connection with my forthcoming marriage. Does the bride-to-be send out the wedding invitations to the groom's relatives and friends, or does his family send them out? Answer: The bride's family sends them out, having received the list from the groom's family.

Should a gentleman remove his hat in an elevator? This and many other questions are answered in Mrs. Post's leaflet E-15, "Manners in Public." Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to Dept. EP, c/o The Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

Separates With an Elegant Air

Bridal Shower Held For Patricia Bomer

Miss Patricia Bomer, Port Ewen, was honored at a surprise bridal shower, Tuesday night at the home of Mrs. Robert J. Torrens, Jr., River road, Port Ewen. Miss Bomer will become the bride of Nelson L. Carter on Oct. 6 at the Second Reformed Church in Schenectady.

Those in attendance were the Misses Doris Ferguson, Beth Beecher, Mary Ellsworth, Nancy Ellsworth, Barbara Bomer, Nancy Torrens. Also the Messrs. Charles Benton, Donald Bernard, Clyde Smith, Harold Bomer, James Johnson, Walter Hansen and Robert J. Torrens.

Fashion for Daytime

BY GAILE DUGAS
NEA Woman's Editor
New York — (NEA) — This fall's air of elegance in ready-to-wear has spread to separates. There was a time when the term separates almost automatically meant casual clothes. Later, it came to include evening separates.

For fall, however, daytime separates may mean sweater and skirt but scarcely an outfit in which to ramble around the countryside.

The panel influence, typical of autumn's ladylike clothes, with slender line, takes over (left) in a skirt of British tweed. Colors for this are aqua and beige. The skirt is worn with a simple camel-colored wool jersey pull-over that lends itself very well to a big pin and a radiant chiffon scarf tucked in at the neckline. For a black cashmere cardigan bound in lace (right), there's a skirt of fern-embroidered gray British tweed. The skirt is cut on slender lines but falls into graceful folds at the hem.

A WIDE SELECTION OF WATCH BANDS

They're for Wear Day or Night

The decorated sweater takes on an entirely new look this fall. It can be sophisticated or youthful; we show both here. Rose-covered cardigan (left) combines pink embroidered open-petal roses with streamers of narrow velvet on white orlon. Sophisticated black orlon cardigan (center) is combined with white faille and black velvet trim. It's studded with tiny black velvet buttons. Youthful motif of autumn leaves in soft leather is used (right) for bulky orlon cardigan in gold. All of these Rosanna designs are hand-washable. Most decorated sweaters are now designed to be worn day or evening.

By GAILE DUGAS
NEA Women's Editor

New York (NEA) — The decorated (and decorative) sweater has gone through various stages since its inception. First, it blossomed in seed pearls, crystals and rhinestones. Then, it bloomed with flowery French ribbon.

Next, it progressed to fur trim, either in the form of collar, collar and cuffs, or shawl collar.

This autumn, the decorated sweater has taken on an entirely different look. Designs are imaginative and come in the form of roses, autumn leaves, white silk banding or velvet trim. Trimming is well-planned and well-spaced rather than heavily concentrated in a small area.

So big has the sweater business become that it's safe to say that nearly every woman owns one. Usually, it's far more than one. Sweater collections used to be the prerogative of the college girl but that's no longer true. Career girls, young matrons and mature women collect them, too, by the dozens. Slipovers and cardigans, decorated and not, sweaters for daytime, evening, the country and the city.

American women are practical and efficient. So, for them, one of the many important attractions of the new decorated sweater is that often it's completely hand-washable. Into the suds go roses, leather leaves or velvet trim. Out of the suds comes a clean, soft orlon sweater that needs no blocking or fuss.

Fur trim, by the way, is back with us this fall. Every girl can afford mink when it comes in the form of a collar on a cardigan. But so far, no one has come up with washable mink. Have patience.

Postman Needs Help

Rock Island, Ill. (AP)—Barking dogs bite postmen and Postmaster John J. McCarthy aims to put a stop to it. Two mail carriers were bitten by dogs and required medical treatment. This not only causes a loss of work days but it is tough on uniforms. Consulting with Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield, McCarthy concluded that, despite field tests for preventing dog bites with chemical repellents, protective clothing, dog candy, water guns and hot sticks, the postman needs help. He advised that persons should take steps to confine hungry dogs until mail is delivered.

Convention City Gets Big Boost From Eisenhower

San Francisco, Aug. 23 (AP)—The convention city of San Francisco got a boost from President Eisenhower at its well-coming ball last night.

THE PRESIDENT and Mrs. Eisenhower dropped in for about 10 minutes around 10:30 p. m. (PDT), just as things were getting started.

Jovial and joking, the president brushed aside apologies for the small number present. He said he figured convention delegates were busy elsewhere and would be arriving later.

He was right on both counts. The delegates were busy downtown getting out of their Cow Palace costumes and into their civic auditorium evening wear. They had been delayed at the convention hall by the business of renominating Eisenhower. And they did arrive later by the hundreds.

THE CENTENNIAL ball was staged at the auditorium by Mayor George Christopher. It had two points of celebration: One to welcome Eisenhower and the conventioners, the other to mark the Republican party's 100th birthday.

Eisenhower said that was a good idea—an "offensive and defensive alliance—sort of a regular four-year rendezvous" in San Francisco.

He got a big hand for that. Mrs. Eisenhower also drew applause when, carrying a huge bouquet of red roses, she blew a kiss to the crowd.

This fall, hats show the face. They are not worn straight on as they were last spring.

Briefly Told

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 23 (P)—The State Public Works Department has approved repair work costing $113,740 at seven flood-damaged sites.

The projects were authorized yesterday under the state's 1½-million-dollar flood emergency fund. The department previously approved 199 projects.

The latest work approved includes reconstruction of three county bridges over Basbush creek, Columbia county. The work is to cost $95,000.

Amsterdam, N. Y., Aug. 23 (P)—Mohasco Inc. reports net sales of $52,600,495 and net income of $375,518 from January to June of 1956.

The company said yesterday the sales total was three per cent higher than combined sales for the corresponding 1955 period of Mohawk Carpet Mills and Alexander Smith Co., which merged Jan. 1, to form Mohasco.

Washington, Aug. 23 (P)—The Civil Aeronautics Administration has selected nearly 200 sites for installation of equipment designed to improve air safety.

The agency yesterday announced its 250-million-dollar three-year program would include installation of long-range radar units that will eventually blanket the nation.

The CAA said the schedule called for awarding by November contracts for less-complicated equipment, which includes very high frequency omnidirectional radio ranges to cost $86,000 each.

The 82 sites at which the radio units are to be installed by late spring include these in New York state:

Cayutaville, Schuyler county;

CALLING ALL COPS—A patrolman demonstrates a new police call box for use by pedestrians and police alike in Hamburg, Germany. He is talking with headquarters over a phone contained in a locked compartment. Citizens wishing to turn in an alarm can press a button and talk into the microphone just above. Behind the vents is a speaker from which the user may receive police instructions. The lamp on top lights when alarm is in operation, thereby discouraging pranksters.

Fowlerville, Livingston county; Sidney, Delaware county; and Wellsville, Allegany county.

Cortland, N. Y., Aug. 23 (P)—Mrs. Walter G. White, 68, yesterday found her second, six-leaf clover and added to her collection of 500 four-leaves, each one of them a traditional symbol of good fortune.

And how, Mrs. White asked, has her luck been amidst all that protection?

"Well," she said, "a little while ago I fractured my hip."

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 23 (P)—A series of groundless bomb threats has continued here.

Police last night searched a hospital after an anonymous caller said a bomb was due to go off at 9 p. m.

Earlier, they had combed the Gov. Alfred E. Smith Office Building, a bank building, several stores and a laundry.

They found no bombs in the hunts touched off by anonymous telephone messages.

Washington, Aug. 23 (P)—A new division dealing with tree planting is being established by the Department of Agriculture to meet expected increased demands for technical help under the soil bank program.

The division will be under the direction of William S. Swingler, assistant chief of the department's forest service. It will provide technical tree planting assistance to farmers, states and forest owners.

Syracuse, N. Y., Aug. 23 (P)—The New York Business Development Corp. has approved its first loans.

President Charles A. Winding of the organization founded to aid new and established New York businesses said yesterday the executive committee had approved loans of $605,000, of which banks would put up $101,700.

The six-per-cent loans are secured by first mortgages on the property of the borrowing companies.

Winding said the initial loans had gone to a completed hotel-motel in the St. Lawrence valley, a small store in the Albany area and an electronics-firm and an aircraft parts manufacturer in the southern tier.

Perrys Trip Hilltop in Opener, 7 to 2

Bob Slover Gets Nod Over Boyce In Series Opener

Perry's Grill captured the opener of the City Softball League championship series, 7-2 from Hilltop Rest yesterday, as Bob Slover was a surprise winner over highly regarded Frank Boyce.

Slover, who is listed as a pitcher and first baseman in the boxscore, permitted only five hits. If another Perry flinger worked, his name did not appear in the official lineup.

Aside from these basic technicalities the Hilltops must have been surprised. Their ace flinger, Boyce, was nicked for seven hits and the big blowup occurred in the fifth inning when the Perrys racked up five runs.

BOB SLOVER contributed two hits to the Perry total and his pitching foe rapped a single and double for Hilltop. Clyde Carter hit a double.

The series shifts to Dietz Stadium Monday night.

Amputee Golfers Play at Syracuse

Syracuse, Aug. 23 (AP)—The eighth annual National Amputee Golf tournament will open on the Lake Shore Course tomorrow with a field of 70 entered in the two-day, match-play event.

Defending champion Jack Harrison of Grand Rapids, Mich., was among the early arrivals and fired a 76 in a Monday practice round.

He lost one leg in a 1939 traffic accident and later lost the use of the other one. Harrison said there were about 50,000 amputees in the nation and "this tournament and the game of golf have served as terrific inspirations to thousands of individuals, many of whom have done nothing but feel sorry for themselves."

20 Unearned Runs

Cardinal Boots Lend Comfort to Brooklyn

Don Newcombe, with his 19 victories, and Duke Snider, with his 33 home runs, have been big guns for Brooklyn's world champions, but where would the Dodgers be without those friendly St. Louis Cardinals in the National League pennant race?

The Brooks have won more games from the fourth place Cards than they have from any other club—mainly because the Redbirds have kicked in 20 unearned runs in their 20 games. In at least four games, the gift runs paid off in Dodger victories.

It was the same old story again last night as the Dodgers scored four unearned runs to beat St. Louis 5-3 for a 15-5 season mark against the Cardinals. This time the Dodgers used the Redbirds to edge within two games of first place Milwaukee, beaten 2-1 by the last place New York Giants.

THE VICTORY also kept the Dodgers a full game ahead of the Cincinnati Redlegs, who defeated Pittsburgh 6-3, as the two challengers meet in the opener of a three-game series at Crosley Field tonight.

Newcombe, incidentally, will be going for No. 20 (opposing Johnny Klippstein).

Chicago's Cubs defeated Philadelphia 8-3 in the other NL game.

In the American, the New York Yankees defeated Cleveland 3-2 on a double error by Al Rosen on one play. That lifted the Yanks back into an 8½ lead over the second place Indians. The third place Chicago White Sox split a day-night pair at Boston, with Billy Pierce winning his 18th with a 6-3 decision over the Red Sox, who then came back to win 7-6.

Detroit peppered Washington 9-3. Kansas City defeated Baltimore 7-2 in 11 innings.

The Cardinals, 7-8 vs. Milwaukee and 6-9 vs. Cincinnati, led 2-1 behind Tom Poholsky's two-hitter (both by Peeve Reese) until the Brooks paired three hits with two errors for a four run eighth-inning. Reese's third hit scored the tie-breaker after Stan Musial's second error of the game.

WALLY MOON of the Cards had two hits in two trips, one an RBI double, to edge into a virtual tie with Milwaukee's Hank Aaron for the NL bat lead. Aaron has a .3318 mark. Moon is .3317.

Roger Craig won his 12th but reliever Clem Labine set a

AL KALINE's two-run triple was the big blow as Detroit scored six in the first inning against Dean Stone for Paul Foytack's 10th victory. Homers by Eddie Yost and Roy Sievers produced Washington's runs.

Vic Power's third hit scored two runs and triggered a tie-breaking five-run 11th for the A's. Johnny Groth's two-run homer capped the rally.

Added Incentive
The policy of naming a player from each league as "Rookie of the Year" was inaugurated in 1949. Before that one player was chosen for the honor for both leagues.

2,000 Fans Pay Tribute To Prominent Citizen In Stadium Ceremonies

They gave Harry Letchworth (Pop) Edson his day last night at Dietz Memorial Stadium and it was remarkable, soul-stirring display of affection and gratitude on the part of the people of Kingston.

Two thousand persons crowded into the grandstand and fringes of playing field in a resplendent tribute to the 83-year-old assistant superintendent of recreation, who has been incapacitated since suffering a fall during the heavy snowstorm of March 17.

The Brooklyn Dodger Rookies blanked the Fraternal Youth League Grads, 7 to 0, in the baseball game. But Pop Edson was the topic of the night. And hundreds of persons who came there to pay tribute to the grand old man of small fry sports had long since departed when Ronnie Ashdown popped to second base to close out the ball game past 11 p. m.

The pre-game ceremonies were handled expertly by Frederic L. Snyder, the distinguished lecturer, and moved without a hitch.

A triumphal procession headed by the Doodledorfers escorted Mr. Edson into the stadium in the famed "Green Hornet," ably piloted by Addison Jones, chairman of the Pop Edson Day Committee. The Hornet stopped in front of the grandstand and Mr. Edson was seated in a wheelchair near first base.

MR. SNYDER, who was master of ceremonies, set the keynote for the proceedings when he said:

"He (Edson) may have fallen on the street but he never fell down on the job."

Mr. Snyder introduced a bevy of prominent local citizens, including Mayor Fred Stang, who praised Edson warmly. There were numerous other speakers representing the various service clubs, the Old Dutch Church, and congratulatory messages from Branch Rickey Jr. of the Pittsburgh Pirates and the Cornish Rotary.

Mr. Snyder announced plans to plant an elm tree in Kingston to be known as the Edson Elm and also presented the guest of honor with a souvenir baseball book and brochure which had the signatures of all persons connected with the program.

Also included in the official part of the program were Warren Smith, Lions Club president; J. Frederick K. Ertel, who represented Rotary; Bernard Feeney of the Kiwanis Club and Leonard Ellsworth, president of the Fraternal Youth League.

Frank Nadal managed the FYL squad, with Jules Albertini and Buddy McCardle serving as coaches.

The baseball game got under way after the Doodledorfers played the national anthem and was settled as early as the first inning.

THE ROOKIES unveiled a tall, gangling right hander by the name of William Booth, who narrowly missed a no-hit, no-run game.

Both of the hits off Booth were delivered by shortstop Eric Blackwell. The first was a fourth inning pop fly which first baseman John Orsino, danced under and then completely misjudged as it fell behind his back. The second was a Texas Leaguer to right field in the eighth inning. Booth walked six and struck out 11.

Bob Maines was tagged with the loss but a first inning error by Bill Haber changed the complexion of the game. The southpaw, making his first start in several days because of arm trouble, retired the first two batters. The No. 3 hitter singled sharply to center. That brought up John Orsino, the No. 4 swinger, who hit sharply to Haber who got his glove on the ball but failed to hold it. A single by Johnny Salerno and Louis Hilton's triple to right center chased across three runs.

MAINES was lifted in favor of Jack Houghtaling when he forced in a run with one out in the second and the former KHS pitcher, now at Mohawk Tech (Utica) turned in a brilliant relief performance. He yielded only five hits and three runs in the next 7 2/3 innings.

One of the hits off Houghtaling was Hilton's second triple of the night in the third, although the outfield relay to third base appeared to have Hilton nailed with plenty to spare. An infield out by Phil Rogers scored Hilton to run the score to 4-0.

Houghtaling then settled down to retire 12 men in a row before the Rookies rallied for three singles and their final two runs in the seventh.

THE FYL GRADS had two chances to break through Booth's serves but failed each time. In the fourth, Blackwell's single, a hit batsman (Haber) and a walk to Houghtaling loaded the sacks with two out but Booth made Ronnie Ashdown his third strike-out victim of the inning.

Joey Hoffman got a life on an infield error with one out in the eighth and Blackwell delivered Kingston's only legitimate hit of the game. Booth fanned Paul Giannuzzi, then uncorked a wild pitch that sent Hoffman to third and Blackwell to second but third baseman Ralph Maru tossed Bill Chase out to end the threat.

BOTH SIDES turned in brilliant fielding plays. Maru was outstanding at third base for the Rookies and teamed with shortstop John Salerno for successive dazzling stops on hard hit grounders by Giannuzzi and Chase in the sixth. Frank Secreto raced into deep center for a smart catch on Bill McDonald's long blast in the eighth and Blackwell made a leaping stab of a sharp line drive by pitcher Booth in the sixth.

Refreshments will be served and tickets can be obtained from any member of the Ulster Little League and will be sold at the gate.

Olympic Glovers In Quarter Final

Albany, Aug. 23 (AP)—Outdoor bouts at Hawkins Stadium tonight will determine the Eastern U. S. finalists who will compete at San Francisco for berths on the U. S. Olympic boxing team.

A total of 30 bouts are scheduled in the semi and final divisions. Trials and quarter finals were held last night.

Juan Melendez of the Latin-American Assn. of New York city emerged as the standout performer as he won a three-round decision over Len Matthews of the Philadelphia PAL in the opening round of the 132 pound division.

Melendez is New York city Golden Gloves champion and winner of the Ray Robinson "Fighter of the Year" award.

The entries include several other Golden Gloves champs. Also in the competition are service, AAU and collegiate stars.

The Olympic divisions range from 112 pounds through heavyweight.

Boost Lead

Giants Nip Dodgers

The Hurley Little League Giants shaded the Dodgers, 5-4, yesterday to boost their league lead to a full game over the runnerup Yankees.

Al Gruner was returned the winner over Mickey Canning in a battle of 2-hitters. Gruner, staked to a 3-0 lead in the first inning, struck out nine and walked five. Canning gave up 10 walks and whiffed five.

Jerry Howard, Arnie Smith Combine for No-Hit Game

Jerry Howard and Arnie Smith of the Rondout Valley LL Braves combined to pitch a no-hit, no-run game against the Tigers yesterday to throw the league race in the tightest snarl you ever saw.

The 4-0 victory landed the Braves in a three-way tie for first with the Cubs and Red Sox.

The winners collected three hits off Gene Frost and George Williams and racked up the game with three runs in the bottom of the fourth, when darkness set in.

The no-hitter was abetted by an unassisted double play by Fred Henninger. Jim Ostrander turned in a stickout defensive gem for the Tigers with a snare of a line drive.

Burt Beesmer and Howard slammed doubles for the Braves and Richard Krohn added a single.

Kentucky Youth Leads in Jaycee

Fargo, N. D., Aug. 23 (AP)—The son of a Kentucky hardware merchant held a 2-stroke lead on the field today as 108 teenagers swung into the second round of the Jaycee Junior golf tournament.

George Stigger III, a 17-year-old with an impressive name had had a score to match yesterday when he carded a 4-under-par 68. The husky Henderson, Ky., youth went into the second 18 hole round today ahead of a trio grouped at 70.

In the race for the international trophy, Gary Cowan, Kitchener, Ont., 9th in last year's event and top international entrant, carded a 71 along with nine others.

The qualifying medalist, John Grubb, Rockville, Md., slipped to a 75 along with Glen (Butch) Combs of Seymour, Ind., first-day pacer.

Winding up today is the 36-hole "B" tourney, for qualifiers with 161 or higher. Four players with even par-72s held the lead.

Platt Defeats Robbins, 1 Up

St. Paul, Minn., Aug. 23 (AP)—Two Walker Cup players of 35 years ago were spotlighted as competitors today in a field of eight shooting for quarterfinal victories in the National Senior Amateur golf tournament.

One of them, Fred Wright, Watertown, Mass. broker, fired a 3-under-par 67 yesterday to oust Martin Essler, Short Hills, N. J., 5 and 3. J. Wood Platt, Philadelphia, Wright's teammate in England in 1921, scored a 1 up victory over Tom Robbins, Mamaroneck, N. Y. Platt is defending champion.

There will be no favoritism in the age bracket in today's match as Wright and Platt each is 58. Wright, Western Junior titlist in 1916, also has amassed seven Massachusetts amateur championships.

Semifinals will be played tomorrow with the 18-hole finale Saturday.

Fulton Tossers Win at Wichita

Wichita, Kan., Aug. 23 (AP)—The Fulton County Glovers, entry on the National non-pro baseball tournament, have an added incentive in winning games here.

The Glovers arrived for tournament competition on one-way tickets. Fourth place in the tournament will give them enough prize-money to buy tickets for home.

The Glovers opened play with a 13-5 victory over the Bartow, Fla., Dixies yesterday.

Blue Jays Hold Eastern Lead

By The Associated Press

The Schenectady Blue Jays are in first place in the Eastern League today because they lost only one game last night.

That's right. The Jays backed into the top spot when Binghamton dropped a doubleheader to Reading at Reading. The twin defeat gave Schenectady a four-percentage-point edge over the Binghamton Trips in the pennant chase.

READING improved its third place standing by stunning the fading Triplets, 7-4, and 2-0. Schenectady fell before last-place Johnston, 5-4.

In other league encounters, Albany lost to host Williamsport, 6-2, and Allentown eked out a 2-1 home-ground victory over Syracuse.

Ex-Grid Player Cops Clay Shoot

Vandalia, Ohio, Aug. 23 (AP)—

Dan Orlich, of Reno, Nev., former Northwestern University and Green Bay Packer football star, today won the clay target championship of America at the 57th Grand American Trapshoot.

The 31-year-old ex-grid star, now floor manager of Harold's Club at Reno, tied four others in a field of 926 with a score of 199 in the "200-target 16-yard event. He then broke 125 straight in a shoot-off to take the title.

Behind him in the shoot-off were Bob Allen, Des Moines, Iowa; Walter Ostrom of Orangeburg, N. Y.; Buford Bailey of Big Springs, Neb.; and Arnold Smith of Middletown, Ohio, who finished in that order.

No. 1 duo seeded second, breezed through second round play and led the way into the third round stage.

Favorites Win In Doubles Play

Brookline, Mass., Aug. 23 (AP)—

The field was trimmed and competition stiffened with only one seeded entry on the sidelines today as the 75th National Doubles tennis championships entered the third round on Longwood's grass courts.

Heading the advance through the first two rounds were six members of the Australian Davis Cup team.

Cheating in Golf Called Disgrace by MGA's Prexy

Boonton, N. J., Aug. 22 (AP)—

The president of the Metropolitan Golf Assn. says cheating in New York-New Jersey area golf tournaments "has become a disgrace."

Fred Marsh, an insurance broker from Garden City, N. Y., called last night on the New Jersey, Westchester and Long Island districts to act to help stamp out the practice.

Addressing a dinner meeting at the Knoll Club, Marsh said:

"WE IN THE associations are going to be forced to make pairings in stroke-play tournaments with an eye towards having 'watchers' to play with those who don't know how to count."

It is a tragic thing, but we have to face it. Golf has spread tremendously in recent years and has reached those without the moral fibre to be honest with themselves."

Marsh said a young golfer told him he was giving up competitive golf "because I can't stand the cheating."

The youngster, according to Marsh, walked down the fairway with an older man in a qualifying round of a recent tourney and the older player said:

"Don't worry, sonny, we're going to qualify with 75s."

MARSH SAID the youngster quit after nine holes when his partner insisted on giving himself a four on which he scored a six.

"If you see a violation," the MGA president told his audience, "have the guts to come to the tournament committee and tell us and we'll back you up, 1,000 per cent."

Marsh said he had concrete evidence of cheating in a number of cases and would disclose them "to you personally if you come to see me."

Richard C. Fowler, of Rock Spring, president of the N. J. State Golf Assn., said there had been some indication of cheating in New Jersey tournaments.

Bragan Fed Up With Bucs' Play

Cincinnati, Aug. 22 (P)—Bobby Bragan, manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates, said late today he would not be with the club a year from now if it has the same players that are now on the roster.

Bragan was disgusted with today's sloppy play in which the Cincinnati Reds beat the Pirates, 6-3, for the ninth consecutive time.

"If I am going to lose, it's going to be with different players than now are on the club," Bragan told a newsman.

Lippincott Holds Lead in Yacht Race

Vermilion, Ohio, Aug. 23 (P)—Howard Lippincott of Elk River, N. J., continues to lead the International Star Class Yacht Racing Assn.'s North American championships here.

He could do no better than ninth yesterday, but a win Monday and a second place Tuesday, brought his point total to two above that of E. W. Etchels of Long Island Sound, Conn., his nearest competitor.

George Dewar of Oakmont, Pa., was the winner of yesterday's third race. Etchels finished second and Robert Lippincott of Elk River sailed in third.

Wagner Being

leaders, was a surprise to him, but added:

"I would be greatly honored if nominated."

Louis Hollander, CIO council president, said yesterday the 45-member executive committee had expressed a "unanimous" feeling Wagner should be drafted. He said there was among the delegates "very great sentiment" for the mayor.

The CIO says it has a million members in New York state.

Speakers scheduled to address the convention tomorrow include Atty. Gen. Jacob K. Javits, prominently mentioned as a candidate for the Republican senatorial nomination.

Endorsements of Wagner also came yesterday from Democratic Chairmen Frank Reardon of Otsego county and Paul Williams of Delaware county.

Hollander, in his report to the council, called for the defeat at the polls in November of the Eisenhower administration which he said has been "a government of big business, by big business and for big business."

The council president said the convention would have to decide on whether to defer action on AFL-CIO merger on the state level. He said only a partial report of the negotiating committee was ready.

Hollander reported under these topics: Labor: "Labor is part of the community. Therefore we must and we will make our community a place where there is unity in seeking goals for the future."

Civil Rights: ". . . the State CIO was a powerful instrument in forging the (legislature) tools to break the chains of racial and religious intolerance in employment, in housing, in the schools and in recreation. We shall continue to seek improvement."

Presidential health: ". . . I do not intend to discuss the President's health with you . . . we all hope that the President's health is restored."

The President is being attended by two sets of doctors . . . the medical doctors are naturally concerned about the President's health . . . the political doctors, are concerned with the health . . . of the Republican party and the big business interests that party represents."

The State Legislature: "The statements the Republicans have made . . . are high sounding and full of promise. But they're empty words. When it comes down to action, the Republicans have failed to carry out their pledges and promises."

Reapportionment: ". . . The time has come for reapportionment of political districts in the entire state, to have each legislator represent as nearly as possible the same number of citizens as any other legislator, so that a minority of the citizens cannot impose their will on the majority. To continue the present system is a denial of democracy."

The Eisenhower Administration: ". . . There has been a complete lack of forceful leadership by the President since the present administration took over . . ."

Secretary of State Dulles has by his contradictory statements and overcharged threats of massive retaliation and agonizing reappraisal, created confusion, demoralization and deterioration in our foreign service and foreign relations.

Plane With 32 Lands With One Engine, Prayer

Louisville, Ky., Aug. 23 (P)—An American Airlines plane carrying 32 passengers from Nashville, Tenn., landed at Standiford Field this morning on "one engine and a prayer."

THE PILOT of the Nashville-New York flight, Capt. R. W. Long, Nashville, said the other engine started backfiring over Elizabethtown, Ky.

He said he did not know the cause of the trouble at once, but switched the engine off immediately.

After landing, Long said the difficulty was caused by the mechanism which controls firing in the engine, causing it to pump oil.

The twin-engine Convair was scheduled to arrive at 8:55 a. m., and was only two minutes late. It flew 19 minutes on one engine, Long said.

"THERE SEEMED to be no panic whatever," among the passengers after he notified them, Long said.

L. C. Lanham, Tuscon, Ariz., said he felt a "lurch" as the engine was shut off, but that was the only difference.

A fire truck met the plane when it landed. Passengers were transferred to other flights to the east.

Kills Himself Opposing Nixon

Stassen on Long Decline Is In Political Basement Now

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst

San Francisco, Aug. 23 (P)—Harold Stassen dies hard. He dug a political grave for himself and yesterday he jumped in. But when last seen he was still having political twitches.

Stassen, pure poison to most Republican politicians since he started his fight against Vice President Nixon's renomination, yesterday wound up seconding Nixon's renomination.

Then, without visible embarrassment about this gigantic switch, he predicted he'd be talking on political issues for years to come. What he may have neglected to ask himself was: Who cares?

No one could have cared less what he thought than the Republican convention.

As a political force Stassen has been going down for years. And here he landed in the basement. No one was ever more alone—or left more alone—than Stassen and his anti-Nixon drive.

He might have been able to recapture some stature—at least as a prophet—if he had remained quiet, once he had lost, and if the Eisenhower-Nixon ticket was defeated in the Nov. 6 election.

But he threw away that possibility when he stood—in full view of the convention and the national television audience—and backed Nixon with high praise.

His argument against Nixon had been that the vice president, running with Eisenhower, would cost the Republicans millions of votes.

No wonder he became poison to the politicians: not directly, but by implication, he was raising the question of Eisenhower's physical ability to serve out another four years.

For, in saying millions of voters would turn against an Eisenhower-Nixon ticket, he was saying millions wouldn't want Nixon for President if anything happened to Eisenhower.

The 49-year-old Stassen has been an immensely ambitious man. The national spotlight seems to attract him. He has been fluttering around it ever since 1940 when he was keynote speaker at the Republican convention.

Three times—in 1944, 1948, and 1952—he tried for the Republican presidential nomination. Three times he got his wings singed, finishing a poor also-ran.

He is not a man who stays quiet long. Steadily from 1944 to 1953 he had been making political speeches and public statements, advising both Democratic and Republican leaders what to do.

In 1953 Eisenhower gave him a government job. Most recently he has been the President's adviser on disarmament. In these jobs within the Eisenhower administration he hasn't had much opportunity for talking.

But a few weeks ago he broke through by announcing his drive against Nixon and suggesting

Gov. Christian A. Herter of Massachusetts should be the Republicans' vice presidential candidate.

Herter hurriedly said he not only wasn't a candidate but would put Nixon's name before the convention. This didn't stop Stassen. At once he said things looked better.

Republican leaders crossed to the other side of the street to get away from him. They said they were all for Nixon.

So Stassen, without a candidate, came here to continue his fight. Pretty soon he found there weren't any delegates going along with him—publicly, anyway. He gave up.

Another man might have simply kept quiet after this. Not Stassen. Under the bright glow of the spotlights he made a long speech for Nixon.

Thornton Calls GOP Peace Party

San Francisco, Aug. 23 (P)—

Former Gov. Dan Thornton of Colorado, undertaking a point-by-point refutation of Democratic charges, declared today that "Republicans are the party of peace."

Taking note of Democratic statements that Republicans "have never produced a single contribution toward world peace," Thornton said in a statement prepared for Republican national convention delegates:

"THE TRUTH is that no man is better qualified to wage peace than the President of the United States, Dwight D. Eisenhower—and the American people know it."

Thornton, a candidate for the U. S. Senate, also challenged Democratic contentions that the Republicans have failed to maintain a bipartisan foreign policy, have denied tax relief to middle and low income families, and have neglected the farmers and small businessmen.

ON THE FOREIGN policy question, Thornton said Eisenhower has established "a new high in bipartisan consultations," with more than 140 general meetings and at least 27 special briefings sessions between administration officials in the foreign affairs field and congressional leaders of both parties.

On the tax question, Thornton said the truth is that "all of our people—not just a few—have lower taxes across the board, and they're going to be lowered some more in the next four Republican years."

Following the urge of people who want "a little place in the country," more non-farming people are living in rural areas in the U. S. today than there are actual farmers.

Weissman 'Fair'

Stanley Weissman, 16, of Astoria, L. Opinions Differ On Motive for Riesel Attack

New York, Aug. 23 (AP)—Two separate probes into the acid blinding of Labor Columnist Victor Riesel have produced different opinions as to the motive for the wanton attack.

Federal authorities yesterday blamed "labor racketeering" for the attack against the crusading writer. Dist. Atty. Frank S. Hogan promptly said that "the area for motivation (is) wide open."

THE CENTER of attention in the investigation was the half-decomposed body of Abraham Telvi, 22, a small-time hoodlum slain by an unknown assailant last month. The FBI contends Telvi was the man who—for a fee of $1,000—hurled sulphuric acid into the face of the columnist on April 5, blinding him.

The FBI claims that the splashing liquid also scarred Telvi's face, thus making him "too hot" for the underworld which allegedly masterminded the attack on Riesel. City police say there is no evidence that Telvi's face was scarred.

TELVI'S BODY was exhumed Tuesday and examined again yesterday, but disintegration had wiped away any trace of scars—if there were any. However, Dr. Milton Halpern, the city's chief medical examiner, said it was unlikely "that any conspicuous scarring of the skin by acid in several areas would have been overlooked in view of the attention the face received at the time of the autopsy."

County Farmers Form Part of Fruit Tour

A group of Ulster county farmers were among those participating in an educational fruit tour Wednesday at the B. J. Case Farm, two and a half miles northeast of Sodus in Wayne county, it was reported today by the Ulster County Extension Service.

The tour was sponsored by the Wayne County Extension Service, with the tour supervised by Cy Small, Wayne county agricultural agent.

Chemical thinning tests on early McIntoshes and golden delicious were demonstrated at the Case farm, followed by a visit to the Sodus Fruit Farm. A red banded leaf roller control test was run and a visit made to the orchard of Irving Sprong where long-time tests comparing ferbam, glyodin, captan and sulfur are going on the fourth year.

Fun for Children

Honolulu (AP)—Mrs. Russell A. Greer, wife of a retired army colonel, has a novel way of entertaining her six grandchildren. She catches sharks for them from the sea-wall of her home on Kaneohe Bay. "It's a good way to keep them quiet when they come to visit."

31 Children Are IBM Guests to See Operations

Thirty-one children, aged 12 to 16, from Camp Woodcliff near Sawkill visited the International Business Machines Electric Typewriter Division plant at Kingston Tuesday as guests of IBM.

Arranged by camp director Robert Saphir and Joseph Peters of IBM, the tour was part of a program designed to familiarize the youngsters with the area. Similar visits to other manufacturing plants, food processing concerns, and sites of historic interest or natural beauty have been made by children from the camp.

Various phases of electric typewriter engineering and manufacturing were shown and explained for the children. IBM department managers acting as guides included John Dimmeler, Robert Eastman, Alfred Payne, Ronald Riston and Henry Hochlowski.

Igniters to Discuss Sale, Other Events

The Kingston Igniters will discuss plans for a rummage sale, scavenger hunt and city road rally at their regular weekly meeting at 7:30 p. m. today in the courtroom at city hall. The scavenger hunt is planned tentatively for Thursday, Aug. 30, it was announced. Thursday, Sept. 13, a road rally will be held—a kind of refresher drill in night driving for members of the Igniters, with drivers taking all traffic precautions.

War Cry

Memphis (AP)—When the Rev. W. D. Medearis talks about wartime hysteria he speaks from experience. And his wristwatch often reminds him of it. Back in 1942 the Church of Christ preacher was holding a revival meeting in Bristol, Tenn.-Va. when the rumor got around that his watch was a personal gift from Adolf Hitler with code instructions engraved on the back telling how to blow up TVA dams. Ridiculous? Well, the rumor got the Rev. Mr. Medearis arrested, anyhow. He speedily proved his innocence. The watch was a graduation present from his grandmother.

Expect Cypriots To Reject Terms For Surrender

Nicosia, Cyprus, Aug. 23 (AP)—Greek sources predicted today the Eoka underground organization will reject surrender terms offered by British Gov. Sir John Harding. Eoka's reply is expected in the next day or two, in the form of a secretly distributed leaflet.

LEADING GREEK Cypriot leaders expressed disappointment at the British offer and said it would reduce prospects for a settlement of the dispute over this east Mediterranean island.

Hopes were raised a week ago when Eoka announced a cease-fire in its fight to end British rule and unite Cyprus with Greece. The move brought a relaxation in tensions that had mounted steadily since Eoka, the national organization of Cypriot fighters, launched its campaign to drive out the British on April 1, 1955.

HARDING announced Eoka members who surrendered during the next three weeks would be given a choice of free passage to Greece without punishment or remaining in Cyprus. If they stayed, he said, they would face trial if involved in the wounding or slaying of anyone. They would not be charged if involved in any other offense.

British troops and police used planes, jeeps and other vehicles to distribute 12,000 leaflets bearing the surrender terms. They also were broadcast by the government radio.

States Have 902 New Polio Cases

Washington, Aug. 23 (AP)—The states reported 902 polio cases last week, considerably less than half the 2,134 during the comparative week last year. The total continued to run lower than in any comparative week since 1947.

THE PUBLIC Health Service said today there was no large numerical increase last week in any state except Michigan, which had 62 cases compared with 32 in the week ended Aug. 11.

Last week's national total was 19 greater than the 883 in the preceding week. The increase in the comparative 1955 weeks was 355.

Chicago, where there is a severe outbreak in some areas of the city, reported 133 cases, a drop from 166 in the preceding week.

A HEALTH Service spokesman said Chicago continued to be the only specific area in which there was a heavy concentration of cases.

He said health service records indicated any week now might be the peak week for 1956, based on past years.

In order, states with the most cases last week were: Illinois 180, California 65, Michigan 62, Iowa 54, and New York and Texas 45 each.

There were 7,095 cases reported this calendar year through Aug. 18, compared with 11,848 for the similar 1955 span.

For the disease year, which started April 1, there had been 6,028 cases compared with 10,785.

Fight Fire With Fire

Helena, Mont. (AP)—Military Police of the Montana National Guard were forced to go through an unscheduled gas warfare drill. A family of skunks was found under their barracks. The guardsmen routed the skunks with tear gas.

Clinics Are Set On Inspection For Car Safety

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 23 (AP)—The state Motor Vehicle Bureau next week will begin a series of clinics throughout the state on the new compulsory automobile safety inspection law.

Commissioner Joseph P. Kelly said the clinics would be held to acquaint applicants for inspection station licenses with procedures under the 1956 statute.

It requires annual inspection of passenger cars and trucks more than four years old, and of used cars when sold—regardless of age. The first round of inspections is to be completed by Jan. 1, 1958.

At the clinics, a team of state police and motor vehicle bureau representatives will demonstrate an actual car inspection on brakes, steering, wheel alignment and lights.

Next week's clinics: Monday in Albany, Tuesday at Warrensburg, Wednesday at Malone, Thursday at Watertown.

The team will visit Utica, Syracuse, Elmira and Binghamton during the week of Sept. 3; Rochester, Buffalo and Jamestown during the week of Sept. 10; Poughkeepsie, Middletown, Yonkers or White Plains, and New York city the week of Sept. 17; New York and Long Island the week of Sept. 24.

Kelly said he hoped to have 7,000 to 8,000 private inspection stations licensed before inspections begin next Feb. 1.

Small Business

the small businessman "contend successfully with the complexities of the modern business and economic world," Dickinson said.

The program will include:

1. A series of forums and workshops to be scheduled in Mohawk and St. Lawrence Valley communities.

2. Panels of business, professional and technical personnel, drawn largely from business and industrial firms in the two regions and from area educational institutions.

The forums and workshops, Dickinson said, will help a small businessman identify shortcomings that may sap the strength of his enterprise. Then he may get help from panel members and Commerce Department technical advisers.

The first forum-workshop will be held in Amsterdam Sept. 25. The second will be held in Little Falls during October, and a third is scheduled for the Gloversville-Johnstown area in mid-November.

The schedule for the St. Lawrence Valley program is being arranged, Dickinson said.

Tub Boat

Maysville, Ky. (P) — Rub-a-dub-dub, a man in the tub. That's the way Maysville tailor Walter G. Austin does his fishing. His craft is a huge tractor-tire inner tube that encircles a No. 3 washtub, just the right size for Austin. An ardent fisherman, he devised the craft in order to get to many hard-to-reach but choice fishing spots along the Ohio river.

Mechanicville Has $100,000 Auto Fire

Mechanicville, N. Y., Aug. 23 (P) — A wind-whipped fire today destroyed a motor sales agency at a loss estimated at more than $100,000. Fire officials said the fire may have been started when an acetylene torch exploded during a robbery attempt.

Four firemen were treated at the scene for minor burns and cuts.

THE FIRE, which broke out about 4:40 a. m., left only the concrete foundation standing in the sprawling, one-story Clements' Motor Sales building two blocks from the heart of the city's business district.

All but two of the 13 vehicles in the garage and showroom were destroyed. Of four new cars three were a total loss.

Fire officials said they found tools from the rear of the garage, including an acetylene torch and a drill, near an office safe. The safe, still locked showed signs of tampering.

FIREMEN said the torch appeared to have exploded.

Police Chief Henry C. Arnold said his department was investigating.

The owner, Harry W. Clements of Mechanicville, who estimated the loss at over $100,000, said it was "pretty well" covered by insurance.

Police said there was about $100 in the safe.

The injured men were identified as Capt. Joseph Dugan, burns about the hands; Freeman James Corrigan, burns on the ankles; firemen Walter Ellsworth, burns about the chest and shoulders; and fireman Andrew Gatzendorfer, cut ankle.

The city's four volunteer fire companies and three companies from adjoining communities fought the flames.

IN CRITICAL CONDITION — Frank Nixon, 77, father of Vice President Richard Nixon, was reported to have suffered a ruptured vein in his stomach and is in critical condition in his Whit-tier, Calif., home. (AP Wire-photo)
